BAKERNAMED BY IOWAN FOR RACE IN 1928

Meredith Touts Out Wilson
War Secretary to Oppose Governor Smith

M'ADOO NOT CANDIDATE Democratic Search Continues for Man Not Conspicuously Wet

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1927, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington—Ed Meredith of Iowa,
now touts out a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination namely Newton D. Baker,

secretary of war, and administration of Woodrow Wilson.
Mr. Meredith doesn't think a wet can be nominated which means of course that he doesn't think the Democrats finally will choose Al Smith. He thinks instead that Mr. Baker is the "logical candidate," which is only another way of saying that the dries in the Democratic party are bestirring themselves to get someone who can be nominated as a compromise if another deadlock ensues. On the other hand, the wet faction of Indiana has brought out Evans Woolen.

Newton Baker can have the Ohio delegation if he wants it. The Democrats of his home state think a great deal of him. After his return from Washington he developed even greater prestige than when he was away.

Mr. Meredith is not a radical though he has many friends in that wing of the Democratic party. He is known as a liberal conservative or progressive and so far as the Wilson men in the Democratic party is concerned would be eminently satisfactory.

NOT M'ADOO MAN IN 1928
Mr. Baker, however, was not a Mc-Adoo man in 1924, in fact the Ohio delegation after many ballots for its favorite son, James M. Cox was held strongly in line against McAdoo by the late Judge Moore and several ballots were cast for Newton Baker.

The last Democratic convention was staged by Mr. Baker's impassioned speech in favor of a league of nations
plan that did not straddle the issue
but he lost out. Wilsonism at that time had not regained the strength it once had in the party. While the league is no longer a controlling issue inside the party, the identification of Newton Baker with the Wilson regime now may be an asset instead of a liability. The friends of Al Smith have left no stone unturned to cultivate the Wilson men, in fact publicity was given recently to a letter in which Mr. Wilson at one time commented on Al Smith's record as governor of New York a few days ago Governor Smith called on Mrs. Woodrow Wilson at the home of Bernard M. Baruch.

WANT DRY CANDIDATE
The basic reason for the announcement about Newton Baker is not necessarily to present a Wilson man of the old days as a candidate but to bring out a dry. It is apparent that Mr. McAdoo has no desire to get into the presidential race or else such staunch supporters of Mr. McAdoo as Ed Meredith would not be discussing other dry candidates. The number of dry candidates is not large for the prohibition issue in the Wilson days had hardly developed the factionalism it has today.

The search is not so much for an outstanding dry as for a man who has not been conspicuously wet. The dries
in the Democratic party, like Ed Mcreath, unquestionably recognize that for the time being the tide is running strongly in favor of Governor Smith but this makes them all the more eager to get favorite sons started in several states in the hope of encouraging them to form a bloc
which can ultimately name a compromise candidate. It is recalled that the favorite son groups really presented Mr. McAdoo a majority at the Madison Square Garden and at the same time caused the elimination of Smith. The 1925 campaign shows every sign of being under way in the Democratic camp with evidence that many of the leaders see the necessity of getting an agreement if possible in advance of the convention to avoid prolonged balloting.

3RD DISTRICT WOMEN'S CLUBS CLOSE SESSION

Broadhead—(P)—The annual session of the Third district Federation of Women's clubs closed late on Wednesday with the election of Mrs. L.
J. Stan, Broadhead, to the state non-executive committee and Mrs. Frank Schneider, Monroe, to the district non-executive committee.

SIX KILLED, FORTY HURT IN EXPLOSION IN TEXAS

Dallas, Texas.—(P)—Five men and a woman were killed and more than 40 persons injured in an explosion that wrecked a two-story brick building here Wednesday night. The explosion occurred while firemen were fighting a blaze in a drug store on the first floor. Upwards of 25 members of the Metropolis lodge of the I. O. O.
F. were assembled in a hall on the second floor. A dozen persons were in the drug store.
A quantity of gasoline was ignited and a terrific blast resulted. Persons in the street were injured by flying brick and glass. Windows in adjoining blocks were shattered. Several of the injured were reported in a critical condition.

CITY HOME INMATE DROWNED WHEN HE FALLS OFF BRIDGE

Body of Peter Endres Is Taken from "Racks" of Papermill

The body of Peter Endres, 65 years old, an inmate of the City Home, 3818
W. Spencer-st., was taken from the Fox river about 5 o'clock Thursday morning. It was found near the "racks" at the Tetuliah mill on S. Island by Fred Hengstler, a watchman
at the mill.
The drowning was accidental, Dr. E.
E. Ellsworth, county coroner, decided Thursday morning after viewing the body. There was not a mark on the body indicating that the man might have met violence or been the victim of foul play. There will be an inquest,
it was indicated at the office of John
A. Lonsdorf, district attorney.
A watch and a package of tobacco were the only things found in his pockets. The fact that he still had the watch convinced police that the aged man was not robbed.

He became an inmate of the City Home about six weeks ago, having lived at the P. J. Nabefeld hotel, 1200
S. Oneida-st., before that time.
So far as is known, the dead man walked out one evening after supper
either in northern Wisconsin or Michigan, but always returned to Appleton in the fall.

Since entering the City Home, he had been in the habit of taking short walks, once or twice a day. Last night he left the home about 6:30, apparently bound for the Nabefeld hotel. He never reached the hotel.

Police are of the opinion that he fell into the river while crossing the bridge on S. Oneida-st.

He lived in St. John, Calumetcon, according to friends, who report that they do not know of any living relatives. He has spent the last 17 or 18 winters in Appleton.

BADGER KILLS SELF AFTER BEATING WIFE

Mondovi Man Found Dead
by Neighbor Responding to Woman's Calls for Help

Mondovi.—(P)—After beating his wife while in a drunken rage, Herman
P. Schultz, retired farmer of this city, shot and killed himself late Wednesday afternoon. His wife, Anna, is in a local hospital suffering from bruises
and cuts inflicted by her husband
when he showered blows upon her with a wooden club. She is not seriously injured. Schultz only recently served three months in the county jail for assaulting his two sons. He attacked his wife in the kitchen of their home.

Winthrop Nogle, Jr., a neighbor, heard the screams of the woman and rushed to her aid, pushing Schultz away from her and helping her to get away. Later Schultz was found dead.
He had shot himself in the mouth
with a 25-35 calibre rifle.
Schultz had served a term of two years in the state prison about seven years ago for an attack made on another man in a drunken brawl, in which the man had been badly cut up with a knife.

FOREST-GO SUPERVISORS IN FIGHT FOR CHAIRMAN

Crandon.—(P)—Forest-go's factional struggle, whose ramifications include the fight over alleged lawlessness, was diverted Thursday from the circuit court room where the county board's assembly room where the supervisors convened for the annual meeting with a contest over the chairmanship
in prospect.
T. W. O'Brien, room commissioner, under indictment on a charge of stealing a lead of potatoes, and several other misdemeanors, has been promised as the candidate of the "anti grad jury anti-connor faction," for the chairmanship. Reports were to the effect that the faction supporting the grand jury, which W. D. Connor, largest timber owner in Wisconsin, is generally credited with leading, planned to support I. R. Ritter, Crandon supervisor.

BADGER GAME BILL PASSED BY SENATORS

Conservation Measure Establishes New Six Man Commission in State

Madison.—(P)—The state senate
Thursday engrossed and passed Senator R. Bruce Johnson's conservation bill providing for establishment of a six man commission to take the place of the present conservation system in Wisconsin. The vote was 28 to 2, only Senators White and Gettelman voting against the measure.

The commission, as stated in the bill, would be appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate. A maximum salary of $6,000 is provided.
Several amendments held up the final action. One by Senator Sauthoff, would permit condemnation of lands needed in the construction of roads leading to all lakes. This was adopted.

Another amendment, by Schumann, restricting the new commission from having the power to create fish hatch-eries and game farms, as allowed in the original bill, was rejected.

Senator Gettelman offered an amendment providing for the appointment of the six men by the governor and speaker of the senate and speaker of the assembly, each naming two. He explained this amendment was introduced in an attempt to keep the appointments "out of politics." This was also rejected. An attempt by Roethe to reduce the commission to five men met the same fate.

Unable to complete its calendar, the senate voted to recess until Thursday evening.
Continuing his efforts to abolish the present highway commission, Senator Schumann introduced Thursday a bill through the senate highway committee calling for a five man full time commission to be appointed from certain districts in the state by the governor.

A previous move by the Watertown senator, advocating a commission of three men appointed by the governor with no district distinction, was defeated when it reached the assembly Wednesday. He followed with a motion asking permission to introduce the bill himself in the upper house,
but the request was denied.

Senator Lange's bill, abolishing the municipal court in Eau Claire-co and conferring additional powers on the county courts, was also passed.

ELIMINATE TEACHERS' FUND
The senate in a special session
Wednesday night, passed by a vote of 21 to 10, the Daggett bill, repealing
the surtax on all incomes of more than $3,000 and practically eliminating the state teachers' fund.
The bill, which has been a sore spot
in the legislature for weeks, was finally passed after an amendment by Senator Caldwell, Lodi, was adopted.
The amendment changed a clause the original bill which closed the retirement fund to teachers, and substituted
a clause which provides that those teachers now under contract in that system, have the privilege of remaining in the fund, and of withdrawing their contributions with interest.

Under the present system, every teacher is assessed 5 per cent of his salary as an annual premium, the fund collected thereby, being used for the payment of pensions.
The repeal of the surtax would mean the ending of a burden, particularly from those Wisconsin corporations now paying heavy revenue.
Approximately one and one half million dollars were paid into the state
last year by this tax.

MOVE TO STOP OUSTING OF SUPERIOR PRINCIPAL

Superior.—(P)—At 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon the first step to bring about the reinstatement of C. E.
Wade as principal of Central high school will be taken, when a citizen's committee of 21 will meet and plan a mass-meeting. The mass-meeting probably will be Saturday night.
Frank Hayes, a member of the committee, is calling the meeting.

LONDON POLICE RAID SOVIET HEADQUARTERS

London.—(P)—Police Thursday raided Arcos house, the headquarters of the soviet trade delegation here. After the raid, uniformed police guarded the doorway and refused admission to all callers. No explanation was forthcoming from any quarter,
and the officer in charge of the police operations refused to talk.

ILLINOIS MAN IS FATHER FOR TWENTY-FIRST TIME

Jacksonville, Ill.—(P)—Samuel A.
Long, because a father for the twenty-first time Wednesday. Mr.
Long who has been twice married is 62 years old and his wife is 23. Mr.
Long's present new number three child was born to him and his wife of Herber Clayton, a resident of the same neighborhood, whose twentieth child was born recently.

Ruth And Gray Will Hear Sentence Friday The 13th

URG $5,000 TO PAY EXPENSES OF LEGION
BAND ON PARIS TRIP

Madison.—(P)—Under a bill introduced in the Assembly Wednesday the All-Wisconsin American Legion band would be selected annually through a contest staged
by the music department of the state university. Until such contest is held, under the bill, the
All-Wisconsin Legion band would be the official musical unit of the state and as such would be sent to
the Legion France meeting.

The provision is at the foot of a bill for an official state band. The Wisconsin band would be selected annually through a contest staged
by the music department of the
state university. Until such con-
All-Wisconsin Legion band would
be the official musical unit of the state and as such would be sent to

ROY L. MORSE DIES AT MILWAUKEE AFTER PROLONGED ILLNESS

U. S. District Attorney for Eastern Wisconsin Was Prominent Republican

Milwaukee.—(P)—Roy L. Morse, United States district attorney for the Eastern district of Wisconsin since 1923, died at 3 o'clock Thursday morning, at his home here after 2½ years illness with bladder trouble.

He was appointed federal district attorney following the death of Edward Miller, Marinette, who was killed in an elevator accident in Milwaukee in 1923. At the time he was living at Fond du Lac where he practiced law for 25 years, coming there from Ripon where he had engaged in law practice. For two years he was editor of the Ripon Press. He was prominent in Republican politics for years.
He was district attorney of Fond du Lac-co from 1900-1904 and was defeated for congress by Congressman Charles Weiss, a Democrat.

Born on a farm in Racine-co, Mr.
Morse was educated at Ripon college,
where he graduated in 1904, and at the University of Wisconsin. He was an all around athlete, a fleet distance runner and a star on the diamond and gridiron. He was 57 years old.

Mr. Morse is survived by his widow, and two children Birney K., a graduate of West Point, and Miss Beatrice, an alumna of the University of Wisconsin.

The appointment of Mr. Morse as United States district attorney followed long service to the Republican party. He was chairman of the Fond du Lac-co Republican committee for eight years and was mentioned for important offices at various times. He was suggested for attorney general several times, but declined to run. He was United States court commissioner at Fond du Lac for years until he resigned in 1920.

With the death of Mr. Miller, Senator Lenroot recommended the appointment of Mr. Morse. He was nominated by President Harding and confirmed by the senate.

Funeral services will be held at the George L. Thomas undertaking rooms at 9:30 Saturday morning. The body will be taken to Ripon for burial.

THREE ONEIDA INDIANS INDICTED IN MONTREAL

Montreal.—(P)—Indictments were handed down Thursday against Orrin McLough, former Wisconsin lawyer,
his wife and her brother, Chief W. K.
Cornelius of the Oneida Indians, all of whom are charged with conspiracy and obtaining $15,000 under false pre-texts from Indians for four Quebec and two Ontario reservations. They are accused of promoting a fraud to "sell the state of New York" back to the Indians. Bail originally fixed at $500 each, was increased to $1,500.
Their cases will come up in September.

Indians Ask Surrender Of Sleepy Mexican Town

Nogales, Ariz.—(P)—A sleepy, dusty town just below the international boundary, became the center of Mexico's latest revolutionary movement Thursday as it awaited the arrival of a rebel Indian army bent on its capture, while the hills around bristled
with the cannon of government troops.

Chief Luis Matuz, riding at the head of the Yaqui redmen, has demanded that the border town of Nogales, Sonora, surrender to his rebel army because of the non-payment of taxes.
Confirmation of this could be obtained from Mexican officials across the line. Adolfo De La Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, whom the Yaquis
have proclaimed as their leader, stated in Los Angeles that he had engaged the rebels, who have been engaged in several skirmishes with Federal troops in the country below Nogales, to General Manzo, said to have approximately 4,000 men available at Nogales and nearby towns. Observers on the American side of the line Wednesday night counted 14 gun em-placements on the hills about the town,
while about 20 men actively engaged in perfecting defenses. Works Matuz is believed to have about 1,000 men.

RIISING RIVER IS CONQUERING DIKE DEFENSE

Engineers Predict Flood Will Top Bayou Levees Before Nightfall

New Orleans.—(P)—Under the pressure of steadily rising backwaters the Bayou Des Glaises levees were holding early Thursday, but with warning that a crevasse might occur at any moment.
Throughout the night citizens and laborers filled sandbags to stop the flow of water through hastily constructed topping and to raise higher the dike between Bordeloville and Sarto, 125 miles on an airline northwest of here and on the west side of the Atchafalaya river from the Mississippi.

Flood relief headquarters at Baton Rouge were notified that the water
had nearly reached the top of the dike
and army engineers expressed the belief that before nightfall flood waters
would be cascading over the top, if a crevasse did not occur before then.

Livestock in the threatened area has been removed to safety and all residents have moved to higher ground, except the 1,000 or more determined men who sent out word earlier this week, "if it goes out, it will go out with us on top of it."

Plans have gone forward for a relief in event of a crevasse. A rescue fleet has been concentrated at strategic points.
A crevasse at the threatened dike
within the next 24 hours would cause much of the flood waters from the Atchafalaya to be diverted down the Atchafalaya basin bringing some relief to Mississippi river levees. A small pox epidemic in the Bouff river section of northeast Louisiana was feared by Red Cross relievers.

Miss Winifred Callahan, a Red Cross worker, reported that 20 cases of smallpox were discovered by rescue workers in the Bouff river section, but all cases were in one house where Niggers were marooned. The victims were isolated and placed under medical care.

COMBINED LOCKS TO BUILD SEWER SYSTEM

Get Temporary Permit to Pour Village Sewage into Fox River

A special permit has been issued to the village of Combined Locks to empty sewage into the Fox river for a period of two years until definite plans for the proposed joint sewage disposal
district of the cities in the Fox river valley can be worked out. Plans for an extensive sanitary sewer system to serve the west half of the village have been completed and bids for the sewers will be opened at a special meeting of the village board Thursday night.

The approximate cost of the system
is $25,000 and between 10 and 13 contractors are expected to enter estimates on the job. The bids must be in the hands of the village clerk before 7 o'clock Thursday evening.
The system will be so constructed that if the proposed joint sewage disposal plan become effective it can be connected with the main line and the sewage can be carried to the disposal plant.

ITALIAN AGE CONTINUES FOUR CONTINENT FLIGHT

Philadelphia.—(P)—Commander
Francesco DePinedo, Italian flier, resumed his four continent air voyage
at 125 Thursday morning when he lifted his giant seaplane from the surface of the Delaware river opposite the Philadelphia Navy yard and started for Charleston, S. C.

The aviator arrived here late Wednesday afternoon from Fort Schuyler, N. Y., completing the trip in 1 hour and 27 minutes, flying most of the times through a heavy downpour of rain, which retarded his speed. His plane, the Santa Maria II, sent to the United States to replace the first De Pinedo ship destroyed by fire at Hoochett Dam, Ariz., functioned perfectly, the flier said.

Commander DePinedo was entertained at a banquet and reception
Wednesday night by the Philadelphia lodges of the Sons of Italy and the Fascist league of North America.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE NAMES STATE OFFICERS

Milwaukee.—(P)—Election of officers took place at the annual meeting of officers and directors of the Anti-Saloons league of Wisconsin Wednesday night at Tuscon in the Rev. H. C. Lorenz, president; the Rev. C. A. Carriel, secretary; and E. J. Steinberg, treasurer. It was decided to maintain a program of educational work, including public conferences.
Scott McIndere, national superintendent of the league, told the delegates that the league party would not permit the wet question to enter the presidential campaign.

CUPID'S DARTS BEAT OFFICERS IN SEARCH FOR WEALTHY INDIAN

Holdenville, Okla.—(P)—Officers seeking Daniel Joshua, wealthy 70-year-old Seminole Indian who disappeared three weeks ago, put aside their fire arms Thursday and issued a call of bows and arrows
when they learned they were competing with cupid.

Joshua, with his white bride scarcely a third his age, was somewhere in Kansas, W. S. Hickey, field clerk of the Indian agency
here, said: "Probably just traveling around."

Fears for the safety of the aged Indian were expressed by relatives. When he failed to return to his home at Wenoka, Okla., a son hastened to Coffeyville, Kas., on reports his father had been seen there with a white woman and an Indian girl. He received nearly $2,000 in cash from the government shortly before he disappeared.

Investigators found Joshua was married April 22 at Morris, Okla.
The bride, who gave her name as Miss Florence Deroule, said she was 23.

LARGE DISTILLING PLANT SEIZED BY U. S. DRY OFFICERS

Four Men Arrested, Two Escape in Prohibition Raid Near Tomahawk

Wausau.—(P)—Acting on information said to have been given by trout fishermen, Federal Prohibition Agents
Edward Smith and Louis Gschiedle Wednesday afternoon captured one of the most complete alcohol distilling plants ever taken in the state.

They also arrested four men who were at the plant and they were brought here by Mr. Smith, and arranged before United States Court Commissioner E. E. Smith, each charged with the manufacture and possession of illegally distilled intoxicating liquor, and with operating a still.

Plans of the manufacturer to still Fleas and other vermin, he stated,
which waived a preliminary examination and they were held under $2,000 bond to await the action of the federal grand jury. They are now in the Marathon-co jail.

Officers Smith and Gschiedle quietly slipped from Wausau up to the rear of the plant in the afternoon went out to Pine Creek, about 13 miles east of that city, where state officers captured a similar distilling outfit during the winter, located in a big barn. The officers approached this barn, one at the front and the other at the rear,
and with drawn revolvers demanded
the surrender of the persons in the building. Four men, who gave their names as H. A. Kerns, John Buara, Edward Kurtz and Simon Joseph, promptly threw up their hands and marched out.

BELIEVE MAN WOUNDED
Two men who were in the building ran out and jumped into a waiting automobile, turned on the power and sped away. As they went the officers fired more than thirty revolver shots at the fleeing men and car and believe that one of the men was wounded. They are confident that the identity of one of these men is known and that his arrest will follow.

The officers report that the plant is complete in every detail, being quite similar to the one taken by state officers last winter. They believe that some of the equipment may be the same as was confiscated by the state and which is reported to have been sold. The plant comprised seven vats of about 5,000 gallons capacity each for the making of mash and these were full and in good working condition.

REGAIN GIANT STILL

Tomahawk.—(P)—Through the raid
of federal officers on the Pine Creek Alcohol distillation plant Wednesday
the law has regained possession of the giant still seized three months ago in Oneida-co. At that time the mammoth plant, estimated to be worth between $50,000 and $100,000, was sold by the county to the Rhineland Hardware Co. for $1,000. The company had never been heard of before or since.

TO SET TIME AFTER REPORT ON WEATHER

Bertaud and Chamberlin Complete All Arrangements for Hop Off

FRENCH STILL MISSING
Two Newfoundland Citizens
Report Hearing Plane
Monday Morning

Mineola, N. Y.—(P)—Lloyd W.
Bertaud announced Thursday that he and Clarence D. Chamberlin are planning to hop off Thursday night or early Friday morning on their proposed non-stop flight to Paris in their Bellanca plane, the "Columbia."

Bertaud said the decision as to the definite time of the takeoff would depend largely on the afternoon weather report which is expected here at 4 o'clock. He expressed doubt on the possibility of a getaway before midnight but was confident he would be on his way to Paris early Friday.

Chamberlin, said Thursday they are awaiting the weather report, but declined to say whether they would advance the hop off to before dark Thursday night, rather than at 1 o'clock Saturday morning.

Bertaud said the weather report
might cause a change in present plans for the hop off, originally scheduled for Saturday.

The Bellanca monoplane was kept behind closed doors in its hangar
where mechanics replaced a metal propeller with a wooden one.

Charles A. Levine, financial backer of the flight, declined to comment on the possibility of a hop off Saturday night, but admitted that an earlier takeoff than Saturday was under consideration. Levine said Chamberlin and Bertaud proposed to land at LeBourget field, near Paris.

DUNT IN NEW FOUNDLAND
St. John's, N. F.—(P)—If the airplane which three reputable residents of Harbor Grace report having heard whirring through the fog last Monday morning was that of Captains Nun-gesser and Coffin, the last variety of possibilities on the island is the possibility of it afterward. The two men, Peter O'Brien, a farmer, and Captain John Stapleton, who gave the first report
Wednesday, said they distinctly heard the noise of an aeroplane engine but could not see the plane because of the fog. Mr. Hinton, wife of the superintendent of the Imperial Cable at Harbor Grace, reported Thursday that she also heard it.

Harbor Grace, 25 miles in an air line northwest to St. John's, is the second largest town in New Foundland with a population of 5,000. The main part of the town is on a hill overlooking the coast. The whole eastern coast is cut up into great peninsulas.
New Foundland is primarily a fishing country and the population is almost exclusively centered on the peninsulas and the shores of the innum-

LAY FOUNDATION OF CIVIC COUNCIL TO SHAPE CITY PROGRESS

Representatives of Civic Societies Organize Super-organization

Organization of a united civic council for Appleton was started Tuesday evening at a meeting of representatives of about ten clubs, lodges and organizations at the Y. M. C. A. Immediate action was taken to have supervised play here this summer. Colonel H. L. Plummer, representing the American Legion and the Kiwanis club, was elected temporary chairman of the council and R. M. Elckmeyer of the Y's Mens' club was chosen temporary secretary. Others present were Mrs. E. E. Dunn, Mrs. Harvey Priebe, Mrs. J. H. Tippet and Mrs. C. W. May of the Legion auxiliary; George Dano and Harvey Priebe of American legion; W. H. Falatic and W. G. Commetz of the Lions club; J. E. Goodrich of Roosevelt Parent-Teacher association; H. H. Heible of the Rotary club; Mrs. J. C. Sleeper and Miss Agnes Vanneman of Appleton Women's club; J. M. Elckmeyer and Frank Sager of Y's Mens' club; Mike Steinhauser of the city council; Charles Anderson of the Recreation and Playground association of America; and George F. Werner, citizens at large.

WHAT COUNCIL DOES
Mr. Plummer opened the meeting by defining a civic council as an organization for civic enterprise, where proposals can be discussed and passed back to the member organizations for action, and where civic reforms and improvement measures can be studied and presented to the citizens generally. Reports of every meeting must be carried back to the member organizations for acceptance or rejection. A civic council always is open to the public and membership is limited only to the organizations that have civic betterment as one of their purposes.

It was voted that the group with whatever additions seemed advisable, be organized as the civic council of Appleton. The resolution will be carried back to all organizations represented.

Mr. Plummer branded most of the recreation projects of the past as haphazard and unscientific. It isn't necessary to acquire more land, he said, but emphasis should be placed on preparing a plan which will reach all sections of the city and provide for people of all ages.

Charles Anderson of the Recreation and Playground Association of America said:

"According to the best practices and conforming to the laws of Wisconsin, supervised recreation should be paid for by the city council. The program should be year-round. It would best be directed by the board of education in cooperation with the park board and other civic bodies. A recreation commission of five, one from the board of education, one from the park board and three from the civic council or at large, should be formed. With this sort of committee parks and school grounds and buildings can be used. In Appleton the mode of procedure might be as follows: The civic council appoints a recreation committee. The committee could appoint a supervisor, make a survey and present the program to the city council for the following year's work."

Mr. Anderson's plan was discussed and tentatively approved and a committee was suggested to survey the field, invite income sources to back the project for the first year, and provide necessary control over the entire program. The organization will be known as the recreational committee of the civic council of Appleton.

A committee of five was appointed with power to act, consisting of H. H. Heible, chairman, Miss Agnes Vanneman, Mrs. J. C. Sleeper, W. G. Commetz and F. P. Wheeler. Plans were made to hold the next meeting of the entire council at 8 o'clock Monday evening, May 23 and it was expected that other organizations will be prepared to cooperate by that time. The recreational committee also is to report.

The committee held its first meeting Wednesday morning. Plans for financing the playground work this summer were made and an informal drive for funds was started by committee members. The committee also arranged for a special meeting of the park board in the next few days, started a survey of local playgrounds and parks and submitted the names of four men, all living in Appleton, capable of supervising play.

Bad Stomach Made Her Arms Yellow

"I had indigestion so bad that my hands and arms turned yellow, and if it had not been for Adlerika, I think I should have died. There is nothing better for indigestion."—Mrs. Mary Hannaford.
Adlerika gives the system a REAL cleansing and brings out old poisons which may have caused trouble for a long time. Unlike most medicines, it acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and takes away that full, bloated feeling so that you can eat better and sleep better. Even if bowels move daily, Adlerika brings out much additional poison which you never thought was in your system and which caused sour, easy stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache. No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. Voigt's Drug Store.

GREEN BAY MAYOR TO SPEAK HERE ON MAY 25

Lieut. Commander James H. McGillan, mayor of Green Bay, has accepted the invitation of the Fox River Valley chapter of the Reserve Officers association to address the next meeting at Conway hotel Wednesday evening, May 25, according to a letter received Wednesday by Lieut. P. O. Kelcher. Every member of the local association has been asked to bring a guest who is not a member of a military organization. Mayor A. C. Rule, members of the city council and all local ministers also have been invited. Mr. McGillan probably will speak against pacifism, local officers said.

NO SCARLET FEVER IS REPORTED IN 10 DAYS

Not a single case of scarlet fever has been reported at the health department during the last 10 days and practically all chance for an epidemic has been averted, according to Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer. A slight increase in the number of cases of chicken pox was noted during the past week, Mr. Sanders said. Nine homes were placarded. Homes where the disease is found are placarded for 14 days after the illness is reported.

COMMITTEE AWARDS ROAD CONTRACT TO GARVEY-WEYENBERG

Local Construction Company Submits Low Bid of $92,640.99

The county highway committee Wednesday morning awarded the contract for paving approximately 2½ miles on State Trunk highway 76 between Greenville and Stephensville next summer to the Garvey-Weyenberg Construction Co. on a bid of $92,640.99. The bid was for plain concrete. Three other bids for plain concrete were received. They were: Wilson Construction Co., $93,751.59; Chertney Construction Co., Francis Creek, $97,327.65; Simpson-Parker Construction Co., $98,304.40. The latter company submitted the only bid on compacted concrete. The bid was $111,445.94. The contract was to be awarded at the last meeting of the committee, but all bids were rejected, the committee announcing that they were too high. The original bids were: Plain concrete—Garvey-Weyenberg Construction Co., $108,176.25; Chertney Construction Co., $97,487.70; compacted concrete—Garvey-Weyenberg Construction Co., $111,631.55; Wilson Construction Co., $117,766.51.

HUGE WELCOME FOR GOVERNOR PREPARED FOR NEXT SUNDAY

Whole Town Will Be Ablaze With Color When Governor Opens Ball Season

Menasha—Committees in charge completed arrangements for the opening game of baseball next Sunday at the city hall. It was an enthusiastic gathering consisting of representatives of the American Legion, Eagles, Elks, Elks Athletic Association, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs and citizens.

The celebration is being planned on an extensive scale and will be something new in the Fox River valley. The sale of tickets at home and the call for them by neighboring cities already assures a large attendance. The sale is being looked after by the players themselves, who do not receive a cent remuneration.

President McGowan said no free tickets will be issued. Everyone will be treated alike in this respect. The team is composed entirely of local home players who have placed Menasha on the baseball map. The entire city, including Mayor N. G. Remmel and the common council and all local organizations are giving the team their united support.

Governor Zimmerman will be the big attraction. He will pitch the first ball which will be caught by Mayor Remmel and will also give an address prior to the game. A motorcade of motorcycle officers and citizens will escort him from Oshkosh to Menasha at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Upon his arrival at Hotel Menasha he will be met by the reception committee which will entertain at a luncheon.

The parade will form at 1:30 and will be headed by De Pere high school band. Besides Governor Zimmerman the guests of the city will be Mayor Kutz, Chief of Police Gabert, Sheriff Plummer, District Attorney Keefe, and Congressman Lampert. Oshkosh, Mayor Dennhardt and Chief of Police Watts, Neenah, Mayor Rule, Chief of Police Prim, and Fire Chief McGowan, Appleton, Mayor Sullivan, Chief of Police McCarthy and John Coppes, Kaukauna, and C. L. Prefontaine, Fond du Lac.

The city will be decorated and a large banner extending from Hotel Menasha to the opposite side of Main street will welcome the governor. Several brief addresses will be given at the ball park preceding the game. Among the scouts that will participate in the parade are those of the Menasha Wooden Ware company and St. Mary and St. Patrick churches. The two local military companies also will take part.

In the event of rain the opening game will be postponed two weeks and Appleton will be substituted for Oshkosh.

HIGH SCHOOL SENDS BIG SQUAD TO TRACK MEET

Menasha—The first annual track meet to be sponsored by the Northwestern Wisconsin Inter-scholastic conference will be held Saturday, May 14, at Northeastern Wisconsin Fair Grounds at De Pere. # Women's Safer Hygiene

This new way discards as easily as tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

WOMEN by millions are discarding old-time "sanitary pads," unhygienic makeshift methods for a new way called Kotex.

✓ It discards as easily as tissue.
✓ No laundry, no embarrassment.
✓ Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads, one now wears sheerest frocks and gowns with never a fear of embarrassment.

Another important factor, it deodorizes thoroughly, thus ending all danger of offending.

Doctors and nurses now widely urge it. 8 in every 10 better-class women employ it.

Obtain at any store simply by saying "Kotex." Box of 12 costs only a few cents.

Be sure you get the genuine, for only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

ATLANTIC WILL BE CONQUERED

The chances are that the two French war aces, Captain Nungesser and Major Francois Coli, who made a daring attempt to fly the Atlantic from Paris to New York, have met death. As the hours and days elapse, it is becoming more certain that they were forced to make a landing somewhere in the Atlantic and that both have perished. Nevertheless, a wide search of the ocean is being made in the hope that they have been picked up by some ship without wireless and that they still live. The government at Washington is aiding in this exploration. All will hope they may be saved.

Reports in Paris are that Americans are blamed for the flight's failure because they gave false reports of weather conditions on this side. This is of course an emotional assertion made in the heat of chagrin and sorrow. The Frenchmen knew that the weather on the upper American coast was unfavorable. These facts were cabled at the time the flight started, but they put off nevertheless. We must also make allowance for the fact that French sensitiveness is on edge because American aviators are about to undertake a similar feat, and because in a general way French feeling for the Americans at the present time is not the most cordial. We do not think there is a government official or an aviator in the entire United States who would have wrongly advised Nungesser and Coli, or who did not wish them well, or who would not have applauded the success of their exploit. We trust our sportsmanship is not at the low ebb intimidated by hasty foreign criticism.

Americans were greatly interested in the Paris flight. They wanted the Frenchmen to win. Their loss, if they are gone, is received with wide-spread regret and sympathy. We do not have that kind of jealousy and rivalry in our makeup that takes a secret satisfaction out of tragedy or failure. While the attempted flight of Nungesser and Coli may have been foolhardy, in that insufficient measures were taken to rescue them in case of a forced descent, it was not at all an impossible undertaking. Sustained flight of that duration is proved to be practical. What happened we may never know, but of course the Atlantic will be conquered for air travel the same as land. It is inevitable that human life will be sacrificed in perfecting this means of transportation and communication. It is so in the development of every great scientific achievement that is for the benefit of the world. Among those who pioneer the way there must be many sacrifices. There are no greater servants of mankind and no greater heroes than those who sacrifice their lives in the cause of science and human advancement.

AUTOMOBILE HORNS

An appeal to motorists generally to aid in the elimination of senseless noises and to take the raucous noises and notes out of those that seem relatively useful, has been made by Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, and it is meeting with gratifying response. Mr. Hayes contends that while the automobile has brought many blessings, it has also brought many evils that should be eliminated.

In combination with Mr. Hayes' appeal the American Automobile association has launched a movement toward the elimination of useless noises by automobile owners, and it is to be hoped that the drive will succeed. Certainly there are few things more annoying than the constant blare of an automobile horn.

A horn is a vital piece of car equipment. It has its important uses, but few drivers use it intelligently. There is a class of drivers, for instance, that blows the horn at every street intersection and in every traffic jam. There are many times when the blowing of the horn is imperative from a standpoint of safety and is required by law besides, such as when passing another vehicle, in rounding curves and in warning pedestrians, animals, etc.

But there is no excuse, for instance, in a driver pulling his car up to a curb and then blowing his horn incessantly until some one in the house hears the din and comes to investigate. Door bells were devised for that purpose, not automobile horns. Then there are drivers who think they are only driving properly when they are blowing the horn every other moment. The resultant clamor can be exceedingly annoying. Modern civilization is noisy enough without the unnecessary blowing of automobile horns.

SCHOOL LUNCHES

Modern schools throughout the country are all being built with provisions for a cafeteria or lunch room where nourishing lunches may be supplied to the pupils at low cost. In many of the schools these cafeterias are run by concessionaires. In still other systems each school maintains its own cafeteria organization. The city of New York, however, is now working out a plan which seems to have so many advantages that it is worth careful consideration by other school systems.

The plan is simply to do away with all concessionaires and hire an expert dietitian who has complete charge of every feature of the cafeteria work. She is a well paid executive. She plans the menus, purchases the supplies and checks up on the results. She is completely responsible for the lunch rooms and it is her job to give wholesome, nourishing lunches at the lowest cost possible to the pupil and with the least expense to the city. Eventually it is hoped that the cafeterias may, under efficient management, be self-supporting.

The advantage to the pupil is obvious. Instead of being at the mercy of a private concessionaire, ready at most times to sacrifice the pupils' good for private profit, the pupil will have the benefit of the expert knowledge of a skilled dietitian. Balanced lunches will become more than a name. They will become an actual fact and a potent force in maintaining a certain standard of physical fitness and mental alertness during the afternoon sessions.

From the taxpayers' angle, of course the new plan is somewhat more expensive. Instead of receiving a stated income from rentals to concessionaires, there is an outlay for an executive and her corps of assistants. The benefits to be derived are so great, however, that the expense would seem to be justified.

OUR MODEL HOMES

The tendency toward a higher type of American home during the last few years has been marked. It is an excellent tendency and one to be encouraged. Of all the nations we have shown the greatest progress in this phase of civic improvement. Foreign architects and home specialists who view our new communities with the subdivisions and shining new houses, marvel at the results accomplished.

The desire to build homes, each of which differs from the other and yet incorporate in each home all the desirable and practical features, speaks well of the study which has been given to small home design. The adaption of European designs to American ideals in home building has resulted, particularly in the new developments, in types of homes of very modern character, yet possessing the charm of the Old World in many ways.

This tendency has been aided by the manner in which home ownership is inspired by the opening of model homes to the public. In Europe, for instance, this is rarely done, perhaps because of the post-war conditions which have given home building a setback there. The model home idea is one distinctly American and one that is particularly sound. It results in bringing the best class of residents to a community. As persons inspect first one model home and then another, they absorb somehow the spirit of the venture, which is to construct homes and not houses. Little nooks and corners and peculiar, distinctive windows, may not be strictly utilitarian, but they add to that indefinable atmosphere which makes a real home.

The model home idea is a development of our modern civilization. It is practical and effective in its influence.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

WHO'S LOONY NOW?

If I am not absolutely right in the conviction and feeling that no harm comes from ordinary exposure to cold or wet or chilling such as is inevitable in the daily life of every one who really lives, it should suffice to give me enough rope to hang myself with.

On the other hand, if there be solid truth in my contention, the first recognition of the truth by the old timers—the physicians and health authorities who still cherish the theory that exposure to cold or wet "lowers resistance" or predisposes the individual to certain kinds of illness—is likely to manifest itself in irritation, annoyance or pique.

Quite a number of the old timers have recently given such manifestation. In its politest form the pique is a written or verbal protest to some one who presumably exercises censorship over my health teachings. No particular flaw or fault is pointed out, but the old timers are just anxious and worried lest the people of low intelligence misunderstand my teachings and suffer harm from wrong ways of living.

Any normal child or any child minded adult should have no trouble in understanding what I teach about this. I do not believe any child or adult can possibly suffer any harm by reason of misunderstanding or inability to understand what I urge as the right way to live. No, the old timers do not put their real meaning into words. They haven't the courage of their own conviction. What they really mean is that if Brady is wrong about the harmlessness of drafts, wet feet, insufficient clothing, chilling and so on, why then people who accept Brady's teachings may expose themselves recklessly to wet feet, drafts, wind, bad weather, damp ground and all that and catch their death of cold.

That's about the tune the old timers want to sing, but they are in bad voice.

In calling them old timers I mean to imply that they harbor an old time theory. Many of them are much younger men than I am, and many of them are much better doctors than I am. But they're all a bit loony on this cold question. I do solemnly declare. They just keep chattering the same old nonsense, or what is worse they skillfully conceal thought with language, for instance, assuring the dear public that "a draft is merely air in motion and is beneficial, not harmful—if properly controlled"—and leaving the poor dear people to scratch their heads over the jargon—the proper control of a draft. This is no invention of mine. It is a selection from one of the latest public utterances of the old timers on the subject.

Time and again I have called names here when some old timer became altogether too rambunctious with his jokes. Seldom have I had a rise from them, except occasionally an angry retort to the effect that I am no gentleman. The old timers are not only peevish; they are beginning to feel afraid that it is why it is impossible to persuade them or their official spokesmen to debate the question.

For about two years now the old timers have been conducting an intensive nation wide study of the question of the nature and cause of what they insist upon calling the "common cold." Why do they not divulge what they have learned? Is it painful to admit that the old theory cannot be corroborated?

In short, I beg to inquire, who's loony now?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Oh, Lady, Lady

A woman with a son 17 and a daughter 15 would like to know what instruction or advice you would offer.

Answer—Shut up! I have no more to say about it.

Painting Over Blemishes

Will you please give the recipe for that lotion or paint you suggested for concealing white spots or scars in the skin? (Mrs. G. E. H.)

Answer—Mix 14 ounces of zinc oxide with an equal quantity of calamin and half an ounce of glycerin, in a pint of water. To this add drop by drop until a tint to match the normal skin is obtained. Ichthyol. Usually 10 to 50 drops of ichthyol will be sufficient.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, May 13, 1902

The marriage of Miss Myra Hawthorne to Myron Loomis was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hawthorne, Garfield St.

Dr. W. E. O'Keefe, graduate of the Chicago College of Dental Surgery had opened dental parlors over the Citizens National bank, in rooms formerly occupied by O'Keefe and Orblison.

A daughter was born early that week to Mr. and Mrs. E. DeHler.

In a dual track and field meet, preliminary to the Northeast Wisconsin meet at the following Saturday at Driving Park the previous afternoon Appleton and Neenah high schools, the former won by a margin of 25 points. The feature of the meeting the previous day was the hammer throw by Robert Wolter of Appleton high who tossed the 12-pound knocker a distance of 136 feet and 11 inches, breaking the state record for high schools by about 10 feet.

TEN YEARS AGO

Thursday, May 19, 1917

George Younger, who had been the previous evening received his appointment to Officers' Reserve camp at Fort Sheridan and was ordered to report the following morning. Mr. Younger was formerly a member of the mounted orderly section of the Second Regiment and went through the Mexican campaign of 1916.

Walter Maeser returned the previous day from Wabeno where he spent a week trout fishing.

A son was born the previous Tuesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Down, Drew-st.

Dr. William Felton of Milwaukee was visiting Appleton friends.

Marriage licenses were issued that morning by County Clerk William F. Wolf to Fred Schaepler of Kaukauna and Agnes Halerman of Appleton; Herman Boll and Irene Kreuter, both of Appleton; Henry Berent of Hollet and Dora Hauser of Seymour; Leo G. Higgins of Rhineland and Effa Strong of Silchester; Theodore H. Vanden Heuvel and Anna J. Heitman both of Little Chute.

A class meeting was held that morning at the eighth grade of the Third ward school. Presided over by Mr. Lloyd Edman, vice president were: Mrs. C. J. Schmidt, secretary, Edna Becker and Treasurer Karl Kogler.

Miss Rose Wetengel, daughter of Anton Wetengel and George Metrus both of Appleton were married the previous day at St. Joseph parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wing were to entertain a company of friends at dinner and bridge at the home of Park-st. Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Ullman left the previous day for Luna, O. to visit a few days.

CHINESE MOTION PICTURES

Washington, D. C. — The Chinese, in addition to showing a decided disposition to run their own governmental affairs and at the present time to be anything but hospitable to foreigners, also have a marked preference for their own motion pictures. They are natural motion picture fans, but they want films produced from Chinese scenarios and with Chinese actors.

This is reported by the Department of Commerce as of particular interest to the motion picture industry of the United States which has enjoyed almost a monopoly of foreign films imported into China. It does not necessarily mean, however, that there is no future for American films in China. On the contrary, it is predicted that the expansion of their own film industry will quicken their interest in and demand for foreign film, which will result in an increasing market for the producers of this country.

In another of these melodramas, which ran to nine reels and was entitled "Three Shanghai Girls," the villain eventually marries the girl he has wronged and everybody else gets wedded who should do so, and they all live happily ever after.

In this last picture there is something of interest to American manufacturers, if not to American producers. Instead of going in for "props" that leave everything to the imagination, as is done in their spoken drama, in their motion pictures the Chinese use real stage settings, and almost every scene in the film mentioned presents modern American manufacturing articles.

A Chinese feature picture, it is said, usually presents a curious interweaving of the customs and civilizations of East and West. The play, following a foreign theme, is carried out by Chinese actors, and the action presents not only their customs and fashions but some which are entirely foreign to them. For instance, in a recent picture the custom where one clasps one's own hands together and bows was used throughout instead of the foreign custom of shaking hands. But the love theme of the story was entirely foreign, and entirely at variance with Chinese custom, where marriages are still made through a "middleman." Chinese clothes were used throughout, except for the villain, who wore ill-fitting foreign garb—possibly to stamp him unmistakably as the bad man of the play. Chinese productions have a tendency to be rather overdone as to length, climaxes, acting, and it is reported suggestively, frankness.

REAL ORIENTAL MELODRAMA

In "A Secret Told At Last," a real Oriental melodrama, the story is told of a beautiful Chinese girl, niece of a powerful official, who is rescued from drowning by one Ming Wei, who falls in love with her, secures an introduction to her uncle, pays her assiduous court and eventually wins her heart. But Ming Wei discovers that the uncle is a traitor and it falls to his lot as a member of a patriotic society to kill him. This Ming dislikes to do, since the uncle has treated him well, but finally patriotic conquests and the uncle is removed, as they say on the other side of the Pacific, or, if Ming is captured, tried, and sentenced to death. The girl is persuaded to stand by her lover by a faithful servant, who tells her that her uncle poisoned her father to secure control of her property, and she manages to secure Ming's pardon from the president of China. Then there is the conventional and rather Occidental effort at a thrill by picturing the race to set the pardon papers to the prison in time to stay the hand of the executioner. Happy endings being in order, the picture ends.

In "Two Valiant Brothers" the brothers, the older a merchant and the younger a student, fall in love with their cousin, Fi-Lan. After various incidents in the pursuit of the fair lady's affections the younger brother, Kang Chang wins. When the elder brother learns of this he is broken hearted and attempts to drown his sorrows in drinking and gambling.

This gives Kang Chang, who offers to give up his love to his brother to save him from his evil ways, but Fi-Lan says there is nothing doing in that line. Thereupon Kang Chang decides to throw himself into the lake as a climactic act of self-sacrifice. Then we cut back and introduce a Miss Shen, a school teacher, who was sweet on the elder brother and had once presented him with a sweater and invited him to go on a summer vacation with her. This latter, by the way, would never get by the censors in several States in this country. But Kang Tao, the elder brother, had spurned Miss Shen's affection, hoping that he might win Fi-Lan.

ALWAYS THE HAPPY ENDING
Of course, as it worked out, it fell to Kang Tao and Miss Shen to save Kang Chang from suicide, and then all misunderstandings were cleared up. The elder brother begged Miss Shen's pardon for having been so cruel to her and prevailed upon her to accept him as a husband, while the younger married Fi-Lan.

Q. When and where was the three-mile limit agreed upon? J. L. M.

A. The international law by which the neutral zone of the sea was defined as three miles from the shore of any nation was a part of the discussion at The Hague Peace Conference in 1907. Formerly the neutral zone commenced at the length of a cannon shot from either a vessel or from a fort of the harbor of the nation.

Q. What did it cost to build "Old Ironsides"? J. C. J.

A. According to the Act of March 27, 1794, the cost of construction of Old Ironsides was $302,719.

Q. Will you kindly tell me how what became of Major Rowan, the man who carried the message to Garibaldi? F. J.

A. Major Rowan is at the present located in San Francisco, California.

Q. Has any President of France served longer than eight years? E. I. S.

A. Eight years is the longest term ever served by a president of France and this was from 1879 to 1887.

Q. Do men ever have soprano voices? G. A. W. J.

A. It is possible for a man to have a high soprano voice. In fact at the Vatican in Rome there is an entire choir composed of male sopranos.

Q. Why does the skin on some cold storage poultry dry up and wrinkle around the legs? N. J. S.

A. The flesh on stored poultry dries up and wrinkles around the legs because of the evaporation of water which takes place.

Q. What is the meaning of the word planetary in mechanics? A. C. R.

A. The term "planetary" in mechanics means pertaining to an epicyclic train of gear wheels, especially one constituting an automobile transmission gear.

Q. Where was Marie Prevost born, and is this her real name? K. O. C.

A. Her real name is Marie Blockford Dunn and she was born at Barnfield, Canada.

Q. What are characteristic speeds of travel, and the practical maxima reasonably to be expected, of rockets, both in ascending course and horizontal flights? W. O. B.

A. Many different types of rockets are made. The distance to which they will range, and the height to which they will ascend, depend upon the type. An ordinary sky rocket such as used on the Fourth of July will probably not ascend more than 500 feet if fired from a vertical position, and will probably not range farther than 1000 yards if held elevated at an angle of 45 degrees. The highest developed rocket is probably the tracer shell used in artillery. In this the projectile carries a supply of illuminating tracer composition in its base, and the tracer shell has, nearly the range of the ordinary projectile, in some types upwards of 20,000 yards.

Q. Will you kindly tell me how wide the Potomac River is at its widest point? How wide is the Hudson River at its widest point? R. E.

A. We are informed by the Army Engineer Corps that the Hudson River is three miles wide at its widest point; the Potomac River, a little less than six and one-half miles wide at its widest point.

OCONTO-CO AGENT HOLDS SEED TREATING DEMONSTRATIONS

ALSO WARNS FARMER TO BUY EXPLOSIVE WHILE SUPPLY LASTS

Wisconsin Potato Seed Is Safest, J. I. Etheridge Declares

W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer
Oconto—J. I. Etheridge, agricultural agent of Oconto-co, is holding seed treating demonstrations in various centers of the county, advising farmers to purchase Pyrol before the stock is exhausted, and to beware of the seed selector and purchaser from Wisconsin growers and dealers. He is busy in the lines that have for their object bigger yields of farm products and improved quality.

One of these seed treating demonstrations was held at the Meadow Brook Cheese factory in the town of Stiles, Tuesday afternoon, at which 220 bushels of seed potatoes were treated for John Magnus, Alex Mangin, Herman Knaack, Frank Halsted, Walter Muck, Alphonse Lemirande and J. H. Newton.

METHOD OF TREATMENT

In the formaldehyde treatment of potatoes, says Mr. Etheridge, "one pint of formaldehyde is used with 15 gallons of water. The solution is heated to 125 degrees Fahrenheit. The potatoes are immersed in the hot solution and kept in it for 2 1/2 minutes. Then they are removed from the solution and left in the sacks or covered to permit the treatment process to continue. The treatment of the solution is preserved by adding a pint of formaldehyde to the solution for every 60 bushels of potatoes treated."

"A necessary part of the equipment for the formaldehyde treatment of seed potatoes is steam and a large tank. In the Meadow Brook Cheese factory demonstration, William East, cheese maker, supplied the steam, and John Magnus the tank and other equipment."

Other seed treating demonstrations will be held at Suring and wherever groups of farmers wish to collect and obtain a steam supply for heating the solution. Mr. Etheridge has a number of applications from potato growers for treatment of small lots of seed potatoes. In these cases, he will also respond but will use the corrosive sublimate treatment.

ADVISES USE OF PYROTOL

Of the Pyrotol situation, Mr. Etheridge says that he has been advising farmers for the past three years who have land to clear of stumps to use as much of the cheap government explosive as possible while the stock lasts. Many farmers have heeded his advice, purchased Pyrotol and made a saving. Others have hesitated and taken it for granted that a supply of Pyrotol could be had at any time.

Mr. Etheridge says that he has learned from John Swenhardt, who is in charge of Pyrotol, that up to July 1, a supply will be available for Wisconsin farmers. After that date, whatever surplus remains will be reallocated for next year's use. Small quantities of Pyrotol are still available at Suring, Lakewood and Oconto. If the demands warrant, more of this explosive will be ordered before July 1.

TITLE DAMAGE TO CLOVER

After checking up on fall seedings recently, Mr. Etheridge says that seedlings little damage has been done to clover, alfalfa and sweet clover and there is plenty of moisture in the soil. "Good stands of these grasses and a moist soil," says Mr. Etheridge, "mean a happy crop of pasture and hay for next winter's feeding. But more feed means more milk and more milk may mean a cheaper price for milk."

"Common clover and alfalfa look unusually good this spring," says Mr. Etheridge. He knows of only two cases of alfalfa being heaved this spring but several cases of the heaving of sweet clover have been reported in Oconto-co. One of the cases of sweet clover heaving was on the farm of John Olson on Highway 57, north of Stiles. In Mr. Olson's field the fleshy sweet clover roots were lying on the surface like carrots. The roots were alive, however, and were starting new feeding roots. And some of the plants were in good condition. Mr. Etheridge advised Mr. Olson against plowing up the field and expects the sweet clover to recuperate and furnish excellent pasture.

"Two years ago when there was no sweet clover in Oconto-co," says Mr. Etheridge, "we started a campaign to encourage the trying out of sweet clover as a pasture. Quite a number of farmers tried the experiment and found that sweet clover is a very popular pasture crop. They have found that the merits of sweet clover as a pasture cannot be over estimated. A number of farmers will use their seedling for hay. While sweet clover if well cured makes an excellent hay, the difficulties of curing are so probable, that Mr. Etheridge is raising the question of the possibility of raising too much sweet clover for hay."

LAW PROTECT FARMER

"Wisconsin seed laws," said Mr. Etheridge, "have proven to be a benefit to the farmer to the extent that when they have purchased seeds through the proper channels, they have invariably secured better seeds than can be purchased in any other state. Dealers and seed firms in Wisconsin are forced to live up to the Wisconsin seed laws."

"One exception that came to my attention was that of a dealer who purchased seed from a farmer and then resold it without having it tested. This practice may scatter noxious weeds and is a violation of the seed law."

"Another exception was that of a farmer who recently purchased seed potatoes from a dealer of a New York seed firm. The potatoes were called the Early Buckeyes and the price was $2.25 for a half-bushel. On examination, they turned out to be nothing more than the seed of old Earl's, and they were infected with the

The first boys' and girls' club organized in Oconto-co is composed of pupils of Wide Awake school, district No. 7, town of Greenville, of which Miss Lela Ziemer is the teacher. It is sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' association of the district of which Mrs. William Menning is the president. It was formed at the suggestion of Mrs. John Schoettler, who was aided in the work of organization by Mealing, county superintendent of schools, Robert Amundson, agricultural agent of Oconto-co, and Miss Elizabeth Salter, state assistant leader of boys' and girls' clubs for Wisconsin.

The committee of the Parent-Teachers' association in charge of the boys' and girls' club is composed of Mrs. William Menning, Mrs. Henry Schroeder, Mrs. John Klues, Miss Carrie Schaefer and Mrs. John Schoettler.

The club members are Bonita Schoettler, sewing; Belle Reinke, sewing; Donald Menning, calf; Vera Schroeder, sewing; Carlton Schultz, calf; Marjorie Culbertson, sewing and calf; Paul Reinke, ducks; Emory Schoettler, calf; Nelda Schroeder, sewing; Dorothy Schroeder, sewing; Pearl Schultz, sewing and calf; Evelyn Reinke, sewing; Eleanor Schroeder, sewing and Edna Radloff, goose.

The club will meet twice a month on Saturdays in the school house to make reports on work and to get suggestions and help in club work.

KIN OF COMPOSERS STUDENT OF INSECTS

Scion of Musical Family Striving for Agricultural Education at U. W.

Madison—Scion of a musical family, bearer of one of the greatest names in musical history, and yet known only for agricultural knowledge, is Vladimir N. Rimsky-Korsakoff, senior student at the University of Wisconsin here.

Rimsky-Korsakoff is the name of the great Russian composer whose masterpieces have entertained the world. The great musician was a cousin of the young student's father. Greater yet is this young man's descent on his mother's side, for his mother is a niece of the great Tchaikowsky, Russia's greatest composer.

But the young Rimsky-Korsakoff, with music as his heritage, is striving for an agricultural education that he can make use of when he returns to his home country. He is devoting his time to research in entomology, the study of insect and pests. When he's through with his course in June he expects to continue his study as a graduate student.

Young Rimsky, as his instructors call him, came to this country in 1923 and started almost immediately at the University of Wisconsin. His education is being financed by the Russian Student Fund, Inc., an organization which assists Russian students in this country to gain an education that they could make use of as leaders in the reconstruction of Russia.

L. P. MUCH HERD HIGH IN TESTING ASSOCIATION

Wausau—The Union-Wausau County Cow Testing association during the month of April tested 348 cows, with an average production of 708 pounds of milk and 22.4 pounds of fat per cow. Seventy-eight cows produced 40 pounds or more of fat during the month.

L. P. Much had the high herd again, with an average production of 1,226 pounds of milk and 43 pounds of fat, for ten cows.

Paul Kiplinski is owner of the high cow in the association. It is a grade Guernsey, and produced 1,125 pounds of milk and 61 pounds of fat.

PUPILS GET TICKETS

Seymour—On Monday George F. Fiedler, secretary of the Seymour Fair and Driving Park association, sent 5,000 complimentary Seymour fair tickets to teachers of the rural schools for their pupils.

Black scurf disease, a poorer sample of potato seed, could not have been found in Oconto-co. And the price was $5.50 a bushel. The same concern has been selling seed corn and other seeds in Marinette-co in past years.

"Another case of the same kind was reported two years ago. It had to do with a grower who sent out and purchased a wonderful, bugless potato seed. He paid $2.50 per bushel for this seed at a time when he could have bought good certified seed from his neighbor at less than $1 a bushel. The bugs did not find the potato but they cleaned up the vines. The grower learned his lesson after he had paid for it."

"The safe rule in buying seeds," said Mr. Etheridge, "is to purchase them from a local dealer or a Wisconsin seed firm. All seed buyers should have in mind that they are purchasing from a farmer or dealer."

3 MAJOR PROBLEMS CONFRONTING FARM INTERESTS OF STATE

They Are Tubercular Eradication, Wider Use of Fair Grounds, Economic Land Survey

Madison—(P)—Three major problems confronting agriculture interests of the state were outlined recently by W. A. Duffy, agricultural commissioner of Wisconsin.

In a statement to state farmers through an agricultural magazine, the commissioner said the first problem was that of tubercular eradication among herds and flocks. The second suggestion dealt with the possible use of the state fair grounds on a much wider scale, and the last on an economic land survey.

Great progress has been made in the eradication work, he said, through the cooperation of the state and federal government, but area testing must be continued until the whole state is tested once.

"A great deal of money and labor is invested in our state fair," he said. "It seems to me, that much of this is wasted when we use this investment and labor but a few days a year. Some day, in some way, we hope to find something that will give us an opportunity to utilize the state fair grounds more days out of the year. It has been suggested that the fair grounds be used for a market for Wisconsin's purebred and grade live stock. The idea, I think, is one that is adopted from the markets that are so generally in use in some of the old countries. I hope that we can make the fair and the fair grounds of more use to the people of the state."

TO UTILIZE GROUNDS
"I feel that the proper working out of some sound way of utilizing the fair and the fair grounds is the second big project that this office will have to solve. I am confident that it can be done with the proper cooperation from the people of the state."

"Our last project is one to which we have given much thought for many years. I am confident that Wisconsin should work towards an economic land survey. We ought to properly use the land within our borders. No one will question the statement that so far as we are not doing it. Outside of the land that is used for mining and for our cities and villages there are three uses to which our land may be economically put. These uses are agriculture, forests and recreation. We have many farmers who are now trying to farm land that was never intended to produce food crops. These farmers are the ones who are causing the rest of the farmers in the state to complain about surpluses and the lowering of quality. They are the men that must sell regardless of market conditions, poor quality farm products."

SEE FORESTS ASIDE
"I am convinced that it would be much better for the state to locate our forest lands and set them aside for that purpose at the earliest possible date. It may mean the relocation of some of the farmers of the state. By doing this, however, we would soon get the lands of the state into the most efficient and greatest possible earning channels."

"The proper kind of a land survey should also include the location of the recreational lands. Wisconsin is destined to become the summer playground of the Middle West. We should know our resources along those lines. We should encourage the building of summer homes along the shores of our lakes. We should encourage the building of summer homes along the shores of our lakes. We have much land that is better suited to earning in that way than in any other."

"Of course, our department is interested in anything that will help the farmer of the state make or then sell better homes and better livestock. We are the servants of the people and want to counsel with them in our job of making this a better state in which to live."

CLOVERS AND OTHER GRASSES GROW FAST

Maple Creek—Notwithstanding the cold, wet weather, the clover, alfalfa and grasses are showing thrifty growth. Barley and oats are from two to three inches above the ground and are excellent stands. Growers will soon begin preparing their fields for the planting of corn and potatoes. The cash crops, characterized by the state, are potatoes, cucumbers and beans on the south and potatoes and cabbage on the north. Dairying here as in all other townships of Oconto-co is the chief industry of farmers.

BUY 3 PUREBREDS AT SALE IN MINNESOTA

Green Bay—E. H. Ecklund, superintendent of the Wisconsin State reformatory attended the dispersal sale of the Echoland Holstein at White Bear, Minn., and while there purchased three head of outstanding purebred cows that will be used as foundation animals in the local herd. The Iowa State Board of Control purchased the balance of the Echoland herd.

On May 5, three carloads of grade cattle were shipped from the reformatory to a creamery at Litchfield, Ill. The last grade animals in the reformatory herd.

WEATHER DELAYS PEAS

Hortonville—The growers of peas and spinach for the Fox Valley Canning company have fitted some of their fields several times this spring owing to cold weather and wet soil but they are only half through planting. Under favorable conditions, two weeks more will be required for them to finish.

RESHINGLE ROOF

Maple Creek—Carpenters are reshingling the Maple Creek Creamery.

KREKLOW IS BUILDING MODERNIZED DWELLING

Maple Creek—J. C. Kreklow has moved his old farm-house from the foundation and is building the basement for a new, modern bungalow on the site of the dwelling. The new building will be 30 by 35 feet, equipped with furnace, heat and bath, electric lights, furnace heated, and will be modern in every other particular. The building of the basement walls has been delayed by the rains, but Mr. Kreklow expects to have his new residence ready for occupancy this fall. Henry Furst, New London, is doing the carpenter work.

BOUGHT PUREBREDS TO EQUAL RECORDS OF HIS NEIGHBORS

B. F. Winckler Discovered Value of Good Cattle While Delivering Milk

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer
Madison—If lapse of time and heredity mean anything in the development of a purebred dairy herd, B. F. Winckler, proprietor of the Winckler farm, must have an outstanding herd, for he has blended these qualities.

Before 1902, Mr. Winckler was delivering milk from a herd of mixed bloodings to a cheese factory in the vicinity of Stockbridge, Calumet-co. While delivering the milk, he took time to compare the milk production of other patrons of the factory who had purebred herds with his own, became dissatisfied with the showing his cows made in the comparison and decided to gradually change to purebred Holsteins as they were the exceptional producers in the comparison.

As Winckler's brothers were among the pioneers in the raising of Holstein purebred cattle in this section of the county, and had established an enviable reputation, Mr. Winckler naturally turned to them and bought one purebred cow, three heifers and a herd sire, Lila Black Johanna Paul, that carried the blood lines of the Pietre and Angie families.

ABBEKER STRAIN BEST
The outstanding female in this purchase was Dina Johanna Abbecker that officially produced 20.19 pounds of butterfat in seven days, and 13-27.4 pounds of milk and 45.27 pounds of fat in 308 days. Her daughter, Johanna Abbecker II, produced 21-02.9 pounds of milk and 70.3 pounds of butterfat. The record was made in the Wisconsin dairy cow competition which closed Nov. 1, 1911. Down through the Winckler line of herd development, the Abbecker strain has been the best producer.

A granddaughter of the last named cow, Calumet Abbecker De Colantha, produced 31.4 pounds of butterfat in 7 days. Her highest production record was 106 pounds of milk in a single day under official test. Her sire was Sir Johanna De Colantha De Kol. He was raised by W. J. Gillett, Rosendale, a noted Holstein breeder.

In 1907, two cows were added to the herd, Juliet Yeslet and Princess Winckler, from Dr. Carl Nutt's herd, Sheboygan, which introduced a new strain into the herd. The production record of the first of the two cows was 24.22 pounds of butter in seven days and of the latter cow, 14,762.4 pounds of milk and 610.4 pounds of butterfat. Princess Winckler was sired by one of the twins of the Ormsby family.

HAD NOTED SIRE
Most of the cows in the present herd are daughters of Sir Daisy Bess Ormsby, the son of John Erickson's noted 37th. The present herd sire is Marathon Bess Burke 27th, from the John Erickson herd and son of John Erickson's Wisconsin Pride. His dam, Wisconsin Pride made a record of 800 pounds of butterfat in a year. She has three 1,000 pound daughters.

HERD OF 53 ANIMALS
The present Winckler herd consists of 53 animals, 23 cows, 16 yearling heifers and 10 calves. The Wincklers are milking 20 cows and are getting 250 pounds of milk daily beside what they are feeding to calves. At the peak of the season, the herd production runs up to 1,100 pounds daily. Some milk is skimmed on the farm and the balance is delivered to a cheese factory.

"The Wincklers do not belong to a cow testing association, the name is operating in their vicinity and it is three years since they subjected their cows to official testing."

Last fall the Wincklers sold 12 head of heifers, daughters of the present herd sire, to Prosser brothers, Antigo, and one cow and seven heifers

ATTRACTIVE PLANTS ADVERTISE PRODUCT

So Says U. W. Expert, Claiming Appearance Promotes Direct Sales

Madison—(P)—Advertising possibilities for Wisconsin cheese factories are outlined by W. A. Sumner of the University of Wisconsin's agriculture school in advocating improved appearance of such plants.

With approximately three million tourists coming to the state during the summer, Mr. Sumner believes that by increasing the attractiveness of the 2,500 cheese factories the benefits would be enormous.

"An attractive cheese factory makes a pleasing impression with travelers," he declares, "and a neat appearance may cause tourists at least, to ask for Wisconsin made cheese when they get back home."

Sumner's advice is especially timely, coming, as it does, at the same time as the announcement of the fifth annual contest for the beautifying of cheese factories and grounds, to be staged by the Marshall Dairy Laboratory, Madison. The judges selected to pick the winning factories are F. A. Aust, landscape specialist at the University of Wisconsin; A. T. Bruhn, chief of the cheese division of the state dairy and food commission, and E. K. Stater, editor of the Butter, Cheese, and Egg Journal.

Factories whose surroundings appear most attractive by September 10 will win $1,000 in prizes, to be divided among state and county winners. Winning factories of previous years are not eligible for the cash prizes but may compete for gold, silver and bronze medals.

to M. A. Smith, Casnovia, N. Y. They also sold three cows at the Clark's Classic, Fond du Lac. They sell most of their surplus calves for dairy purposes.

"The demand for purebred dairy cattle is improving," says W. H. Winckler, manager of the farm.

HEAVY RAIN DAMAGES TWELVE CORNERS CROPS

Twelve Corners—Considerable grain was either washed out or covered up in this vicinity by the heavy rain Sunday night and in the morning the low lands resembled lakes. Charles Sommers lost an acre of sugar beets in his field that he had finished planting. On Monday the farmers were out in the fields opening up ditches and trying in that way to get rid of the water in the quickest possible time.

Prominent Priest Well After 20 Years Of Suffering

Gives Dreco full credit for ending distress with stomach and kidneys.

It is with great satisfaction that we publish the following statement from the Reverend Father J. D. Heller, pastor of the R. C. Church of the Visitation, Fond du Lac, Wis. It was given to the Dreco man freely and voluntarily, with the hope that others who have suffered as Father Heller suffered might be led to try Dreco too. Father Heller says:

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dreco to all for it brought me health and peace when no other medicine would help me."

"For the past 20 years I have been suffering from extreme hyper-acidity of the stomach. My stomach always distressed me after eating because of the gas and acids which formed, and I finally reached the stage where I had to use soda every day of my life. My kidneys also worried me considerably, calling me up frequently at night and causing a burning sensation. I tried many treatments and became very discouraged when nothing helped me."

"But one day my friend, Father Thierien of Green Bay who had been sickly for a long time, told me what Dreco had done for him so I decided to try it myself."

"Well, Dreco hit my case as nothing else had ever done and now my system is entirely free of the acidity and I can eat anything without being distressed afterwards. My kidneys have been strengthened so that I can now sleep soundly all night long without getting up once and I am feeling better than I have at any time during the past 20 years. I now take great pleasure in recommending Dreco to others for I don't believe there's a better medicine made for stomach, liver and kidney complaints."

Everywhere you go these days you find someone praising Dreco, for the great amount of good it has done in cases of stomach trouble, sluggish liver, weak kidneys, constipation, catarrh, rheumatism and as a blood purifier and reconstructive tonic."

Mr. H. W. C. Marr-Baker, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Schlitz Bros. Downtown Drug Store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him.

Frocking The Little Miss Is No Longer A Problem; Now Is Pleasure For Mothers

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
FASHION designers specializing in little girl's clothes might well have believed in the old adage, "Children should be seen and not heard."

For they have made little girls' clothes so attractive and becoming this spring that little sister, all dressed up, will be a treat to see even if she does not say a word.

Little Miss Two-to-Six has a realm of fashion all her own. While she borrows ideas from older sister's school clothes and mother's costumes, she still preserves certain style features that belong only to her small self.

FOUR REQUISITES

Extreme simplicity, a certain crisp freshness, fullness to give her small legs room for running and materials that in their color and small figured patterns suggest childhood are the four requisites of the wardrobe.

The fussy dress is distinctly not the smart attire for the little girl. Plain colors or finely figured materials should fashion her clothes. This year's cambrics, England prints, chintzes and crepes in tiny flowered figures offer hundreds of suitable small patterns.

Colors should have a clear quality and be sun-fast. Pink is always good for the little girl. Sun yellow, the new lavender-blues, and greens ranging from sea-foam to hunter's are all suitable. The child's complexion should determine choice of colors.

FOR MORNING

For mornings this year there are play dresses of figured prints, plain colored linens, ginghams and silks that tub. They come either in yoke effect, with set-in short or long sleeves, or may have panel front or back with tucks giving fullness on the shoulders.

The smocked dress, with raglan sleeves, is good, too, and always has a flare that becomes the little girl. For street wear there are little sweaters like mother's, of striped silk or wool jersey, pleated silk skirts and blouses like the skirt. There are, too, coats of elegant simplicity that for chic have double breasted effects, or surplice openings or other adult style points.

The pants-frock is sure a favorite, made of hand-blocked linen, prints or gingham, for beach wear. This frock takes its own bonnet of self-material to set it off and often a matching bag for toys or a bit of lunch.

In case little Mary is invited to luncheon with mother, she should have an afternoon frock of pastel washable silk, organdy or dotted Swiss or lawn. If of plain color, it should have perhaps a miniature jacket, like a grown-up, down its front panel. Or it may take a flower in appliqued colors on its skirt and repeated on one side of its yoke. If of figured materials a tiny banding of plain colored material will suffice for trimming.

Of course there is the party dress in every well-dressed little girl's wardrobe now.

This may be a French import, of gauze batiste with the entire hemline, yoke and puff sleeve of handworked pattern in lace and tucks. It may be of organdy with fagoting, of georgette fashioned simply. Its color will be its biggest feature in that instance.

Children's hats should always be simple. Ribbon trimming on palm or novelty felt, silks or straws are best. Flowers are really too ornate for the little girl. Feather trimmings, except for the smart festive tip stuck in a hat-band are out of the question.

Accessories for little girls increase apace with mothers'. But the sensible woman will refrain from loading many on her little girl. Jewelry, vanity cases and other extra-extras are out of place on Miss Two-to-Six. Child's fashions that are fashionable do not include them.

SMARTLY SHIRRED HIPLINE

A particularly dainty suggestion for summer is seen in Design No. 3064 fashioned of printed georgette crepe with applied neckband of plain georgette crepe in harmonizing shade. Tucks at shoulder fronts add fullness and dainty appearance. It can be made in an hour. After the side and shoulder seams of waist are joined, the two-piece skirt is seamed and shirred through the dotted lines and attached to the waist. Think of it! Pattern in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. The 26-inch requires 3 1/2 yards of 40-inch material with 1/4 yard of 36-inch contrasting. so when I read Mr. Thomas' article on the Jannings family, I had an impulse to wire my congratulations to Hollywood at once.

It isn't always easy to get away. They say that a man has his hat, but a woman has too, to my mind. And a couple of days off when things get too peppery at home it is a lot better than talking of divorce courts, don't you think? The sink may stack up with dishes, and the goldfish may get thin, but what's that to nerves that have been out at elbows or to coming back home as good as new?

The saws and hammer flew real fast and several hours went drifting past. At noon the bunch stopped work. A while to eat some new grown corn. It grew within a field real slick, and all they had to do was pick. When Clowry tripped upon a stump his clothes were almost torn.

Said Daffydoe, "That ought to teach you not to pick what you can't reach. There's plenty right close to the ground." Then dinner was begun. In just one hour, by Daffy's clock, they all were back upon the dock, and by the time the nighttime came, the diving place was done.

SAINT AND SINNER

By Anna Austin

"Beaverboard, nailed to strips of pine. Two thickresses of beaverboard," Anderson explained, in answer to Banning's question as to the nature of the partition between the farmer's room and that occupied by Cherry and Chris.

"Is this beaverboard partition sound proof?" Banning asked.

"Not by a long sight," the witness answered emphatically.

"Did you sleep undisturbed for the rest of the night?" Banning asked, satisfaction radiating from his flushed face.

"No, sir. Me and the wife lay talking for about an hour—talking about the elopement and what old Mr. Cluny must be thinking and feeling—"

"You'd read of the approaching marriage of Mr. Cluny and Miss Cherry Lane?"

"Sure we had."

"You knew that the bride who was your guest for the night was this same Cherry Lane?"

"Sure. Seen her name on her marriage certificate. Me and my wife don't take any couples in leek'n we're satisfied they're married," the farmer answered virtuously.

"Could you hear conversation through the partition before you went to sleep?" Banning asked.

"We could hear low talking going on, but they were pretty quiet," Anderson answered. "Couldn't make out any words—and we wasn't listening anyway."

"All right, Mr. Anderson. Go right ahead with your story in your own way," Banning urged.

"Well, me and the wife both dozed off, but we was waked up about three o'clock in the morning—"

"Can you fix the time, Mr. Anderson?" Banning asked significantly.

"I struck a match and looked at my watch a few minutes after we woke up, and the hands pointed to a quarter past three," Anderson stated with beligerent positiveness.

"Sounds of crying and quarrelling," Anderson raised his voice, as if he realized how important his testimony was, and intended to make the most of it. "My wife says to me, 'Jeff,' she says, 'they're at it already! Can you beat that?'"

The farmer flushed at the quickly quelled burst of laughter that greeted his naive bit of testimony.

"Could you hear was said in the guest room, Mr. Anderson?"

"Not much of it."

"Mr. Anderson, can you repeat any remarks or single words that you overheard?" Banning asked, leaning upon the arm of the witness chair.

"Well, I heard a good many words and scraps of conversation, here and there, first and last—"

"Repeat, as nearly as you can remember, any sentence or connected words that you overheard," Banning directed him a little impatiently.

"Well, it musta been toward morning when I heard the girl's voice scream out, 'I hate you! I hate you! You made me do it, and it will kill Maggie!' Or leas'tways it sounded like she said 'Maggie!' Some name like that!"

"Faith put her arms about her sister, as the white-faced little defendant broke into bitter weeping, her ashen lips murmuring over and over, "Maggie! Maggie!"

In the deathlike stillness that followed, a reporter's hoarse exclamation

"The kid confessed!"—was as audible as if it had been shouted.

TOMORROW: Anderson's damning testimony breaks Cherry's superb nerve.

Here's Speedy Relief for Tender, Aching, Swollen Feet

Voigt's Drug Store Says Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction or Money Cheerfully Refunded.

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What's to be done?

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And as for Soft Corns and Callouses a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with powders, footbaths or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

Voigt's Drug Store and every good druggist guarantees Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

THE hippogator waddled round and round the Times found that it was really friendly, and they petted it a bit. Said Coppy, "Oh, I want a ride. I wonder, now, if I would slide right off its back. But still, it seems a dandy place to sit."

The others helped him climb aboard and very soon they simply roared. The hippogator walked so queer, poor Coppy almost fell. However, he hung on a while, and then, when through, began to smile. Said he "I guess I'm pretty good. Just try it. Gee, it's swell."

So several others also rode. The hippo seemed to like the load. He led them to a wondrous stream, and Scouty said, "Let's swim." Old Daffydoe came up just then and said, "I have a plan again. We'll build a diving dock and see if you're in diving trim."

They gathered wood from all around and piled it high upon the ground.

DAN THOMAS writes of Emil Jannings, the famous German actor, now starring in many of Hollywood's latest productions. "He must live the night and day until the production is completed."

He tells of calling on Herr Jannings at his Hollywood home only to find a "dirty slovenly old dervish too feeble to lift his drooping head." Not Jannings, but in his place old August Schilling, the character part Jannings is playing in his latest picture, "The Way of All Flesh."

"August! Get him he is and Mr. August Schilling to stay!" said Dan Thomas, "and the picture is finished."

Spanish War Vets Set Up School Fund

A scholarship loan fund, has been created by the National Auxiliary of United Spanish War Veterans to be used in educating children of Spanish-American war veterans, according to word received by the local auxiliary.

Notices have been sent to units of the organization throughout the country with instructions that children of veterans are in need of funds for educational purposes, applications for the money should be made. Each child that makes application will be loaned $250 for educational purposes only. Payments on the loan will begin as soon as the borrower becomes a wage earner and will continue in regular monthly payments until the obligation is met, unless satisfactory reasons are given to the board.

The plan was adopted at the Des Moines convention of the organization but final steps were not taken until a short time ago. The fund is created by setting aside 10 per cent of the gross income of the national organization for a period of five years.

EAGLES SEND FIVE TEAMS TO PIN TOURNAMENT

Five bowling teams from the local area of Fraternal Order of Eagles will take part in the first annual state Eagles bowling tournament which starts Saturday May 21 at Milwaukee. The teams are to meet Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the Eagle bowling alleys for practice. The teams will leave Saturday morning, May 21, for Milwaukee where they will be entered in the tournament at 7:45 Saturday night and Sunday morning. F. J. Johnson is captain of Team No. 1; Herman Strutz, No. 2; Barney Welhouse, No. 3; Paul Sell, No. 4 and Charles Schimpf, No. 5.

Thirty-seven members attended the regular meeting Wednesday evening at the Eagle hall. A Mother's day class will be initiated at the regular meeting next Wednesday night. About 25 candidates will receive the initiatory degree. The drum corps will assist the officers in the work.

Officers of the lodge met Monday night with W. C. Hart, past state president of Minnesota and a representative of the granderie convention committee Monday night and it was decided that the Appleton lodge would sell tickets for the pageant to be presented for four nights of the state and national convention to be held Aug. 3 to 13 at Milwaukee. The proceeds will be used to help defray the cost of the convention. The pageant will be put on by the Milwaukeeerie. About 4,000 persons will take part.

Startling Stories From Life

THERE is an old saying that "experience is the best teacher." The writer forgot to add that Experience always exacts a definite tuition fee.

How this truth works out in real life is seen in the thrilling stories that appear each month in True Story Magazine. Each one of these stories is a narrative of personal experience—stirring, heart-gripping, powerfully dramatic incidents written by those who have lived the adventures and romance of life. The June issue of True Story, for instance, contains nineteen such features.

TOWNSAUXILIARY TO SELL
2,000 POPPIES TO HONOR WAR HEROESWomen of Unit Busy Planning Wreaths for New London
Memorial Day Ceremony

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Two thousand poppies have been ordered for the poppy drive, and wreaths will be made and sold by the members of the local auxiliary. The poppy drive will be in charge of a committee of auxiliary members as follows: Mrs. A. C. Borchardt, chairman; Mrs. Kathryn Loss and Mrs. Lillian Lash, Mrs. N. A. McDaniel.

"In the spring of 1919 amidst complete devastation," a message from the poppy drive headquarters says, "the poppies bloomed in abundance on the battle fields of France where our men had fallen in battle. From that time on the poppy has become the memorial flower of the American legion and the American legion auxiliary. In the summer of 1918 when an unleashed American army was writing victory in its history, soldiers wrote and sang of the poppy fields, the poppies had fallen in battle. They sang of them because it was through machine raked fields that doughboys plucked them and wore them on their helmets as they forged ahead."

"The Flanders poppy which provided cheer to the marching soldiers and grew amidst complete devastation on the battle fields of abandoned trenches and even in No Man's Land—thus typifying the courage of the men who fell. It is in reality the poppy of the great war, from which corn is made—and is an ancient flower which grows annually and profitably. Because, immediately after the war, where the battle had been the fiercest and the bloodshed the greatest, the poppies grew most profusely, the French women grew the poppy, the poppy of the great war, the poppy of the men who fell. "Because of this, too, the poppy is sold annually by the legion organizations to raise money to aid those for whom the war is not yet over. Each Memorial day poppies or poppy wreaths are placed on the graves of the comrades who gave their lives that we might live."

Twenty graves of heroes from this vicinity who made the supreme sacrifice will be decorated by Norris-Spencer Post No. 253 of the American legion and its auxiliary unit.

You probably know that Cod Liver Oil is the greatest flesh producer in the world.

Because it contains more Vitamins than any food you can get.

You don't need to know that Cod Liver Oil comes in sugar coated tablets now, so if you really want to put 10 or 20 pounds of solid healthy flesh on your bones and feel well and strong, ask any druggist for a box of Mervin's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Only 60 cents for 50 tablets and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to hand you back your money.

It isn't anything unusual for a person to gain 20 pounds in 30 days.

Remember Mervin's, the original and genuine—there are no imitations just as there is counterfeit money.

EDWARD SPEARBRAKER
DIES AT CLINTONVILLE

Clintonville—Edward Spearbraker, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Spearbraker, died at about 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, following an illness of about a year. He had, however, been in poor health during the past eight years, as the result of an operation. Mr. Spearbraker was born at Clintonville May 16, 1901. After graduating from grammar school he went to Minneapolis when he was 16 years old. From there he went to Milwaukee where he was employed in a similar capacity for six years.

Survivors are the parents, four brothers, George, Arnold, and Otto, all of Milwaukee, and John of this city; and two sisters, Mrs. Clara Johnson, and Hattie, Mrs. John Johnson, both of Waukesha. Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon from St. Martin's Lutheran church by the Rev. R. F. W. Pautz. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery. Bearers will be Arthur and Raymond Kaphingst, Bernard Knapp, Martin Bogter, Alfred Hornberg and Harry Kluth.

7 SCARLET FEVER CASES DISCOVERED IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

140 Home Visits Are Recorded in Monthly Report of Nurses

Seven cases of scarlet fever, 13 of chicken pox, four of influenza, four of whooping cough, and 27 of colds were reported in the public and parochial schools during April by Miss Mary Orison and Miss Jane Barclay, school nurses. There were no measles. One case of syphilis was found, two of pneumonia, one of skin conditions other than normal, 33 other cases, one diagnosed, four orthopedic cases, one other surgical case, and three of acute common diseases. There were 11 defects corrected.

The nurses visited 146 patients in 140 homes. Eleven patients were not found at home. Social service was given to one person. One hundred sixty-eight pupils were 10 per cent or more underweight, and 47 pupils were 20 per cent or more overweight. This was found when 1,723 children were weighed and measured. There were 1,504 of normal weight.

In school nursing, 71 visits were made at 14 schools. Seventy-five pupils were given complete inspection, and 255 partial inspection. Individual conferences were held with 16 children. Physicians examined 1,036 and dentists examined 29 pupils. Two children were excluded from school. Class room talks were given on 19 occasions and the same number were given first aid treatment. Four temperatures were taken. One case of hepatitis was found.

There were 32 malnourished children found in the schools, 325 had defects of the teeth, 233 of the tonsils, 52 of nasal breathing, 59 of cervical glands, 43 of thyroid glands, 41 of posture, 24 of skin including rash, sores, etc., 14 of vision, 12 of eyes, 17 of heart, seven of hearing, six of lungs, and one of discharging ears.

Miss Orison spoke to 75 members of the Rotary club on the nurses' work. One orthopedic and one other clinic were held. A dental clinic for school children, was held 14 days. There were 11 office interviews held, 208 telephone calls made, two items for newspapers were given, and seven letters or pamphlets sent.

Dear Patrons:

Laughs and more laughs! Shrieks and roars! Audiences all over the country are growing hysterical at the mirth-provoking antics and adventures of the greatest comedy team ever known—Karl Dane and George K. Arthur—in the biggest motion picture comedy of our times "ROOKIES."

If you want to laugh until the tears threaten to roll down your cheeks don't miss the riotous Comedy of life in a Citizens' Military Training Camp—"ROOKIES"—which is coming to the Elite Theatre, Tomorrow, May 13th.

There have been many other war comedies—but you've never seen one half as funny as "ROOKIES." Every scene, every incident, even the title captions are packed with the broad and understandable army humor.

In the cast you will find many featured players, including Marceline Day, Tom O'Brien and Louise Lorraine.

We personally recommend this picture most highly and guarantee 100 per cent entertainment.

COOLIDGE SILENT ABOUT THIRD TERM AS NATION'S HEAD

Can't Stop Him from Becoming Candidate if He Wants It, Experts Hold

BY ROONEY DUTCHER

Washington—There is no certain method of preventing President Coolidge from becoming a candidate for a third term as it becomes more and more certain that he expects to run again. If there were, its discoverer would have anything he wanted from the Democrats and even from the progressives.

The pro-third term politicians are to be heard on every hand. Like robbers in the spring after the first one is duly observed and heard, as soon as one stalwart Republican steps for breath another begins wailing the refrain which is believed so sweet to the Coolidge ears.

The anti-third termers, who on the surface will include all good Democrats and some progressives and ungodly Republicans and the rest of the progressives, haven't even rehearsed their piece. Only those who consistently rush in where angels fear to tread—Senator George Norris, Nicholas Murray Butler and Senator George Moses—have ventured to lift their voices.

NO CONCERTED MOVEMENT

You may have seen certain vague assertions in print to the effect that a concerted movement is under way to smoke the president out—to demand of him whether he intends to run again or whether he doesn't. But your correspondent has been unable to track down these rumors. Borah doesn't know anything about it. Norris doesn't. La Follette doesn't. Howell doesn't. Shipstead doesn't and neither do any other Democrats or progressives interviewed.

The attitude of most of the third term opponents at the moment seems to be that the issue is being kept before the public as the regular Republican senators, national committeemen and others continue to issue public bulls to the effect that the third term is a dead duck as a bogey and that, anyway, reelection won't mean really a third term for Mr. Coolidge. With an occasional blast from their side like that of Norris or Butler, they appear to feel they may well bide their time.

It seems most likely that the anti-third term movement will not become organized until the Seventieth Congress gets into action.

The best reason for the Coolidge policy of staying in the dugout no matter how loud and frequent are the challenges to come out and fight are that to acquiesce and admit his candidacy would be to burn his bridges behind him and to raise himself

LIBERTY LOAN BONDS REDEEMABLE NOV. 15

Second liberty loan bonds have been called for redemption Nov. 15, 1927, according to a notice from A. W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, received Tuesday by Fred Felix Wettengel, acting postmaster. Holders of such bonds who write in advance of the redemption date, it was stated, will be offered the privilege of exchanging all or part of their bonds for other interest-bearing obligations of the United States. Due notice of these securities will be given later, the announcement continued.

In accordance with their terms all second 4 per cent and 4 1/2 per cent bonds will be called for redemption. This means that the bond is payable in both principal and interest to the public Nov. 15, and the bonds will not bear interest after that date. Holders who want their bonds redeemed may present them. Information on the bonds may be obtained from banks, trust companies, or any federal bank, it was announced.

If the snipers could bring out their heavy artillery and make it work, if they could recruit a large number of the prominent Republicans who would like someone else to have a chance at the White House and if they could perhaps get the public excited about the "menace" of a third term, the potshots might conceivably become a devastating barrage which might force the president back into the dugout for good. This possibility may rightly be regarded as a wild dream, but it will be promptly noted that for a president to announce a third term and then to have to renounce it under fire would be just about the limit in embarrassing moments. Certainly no such cautious and astute politician as Calvin Coolidge is going to place himself in any such peril.

HASNY TOLD ANYONE

The president's policy of silence, of course, is his public policy. His private policy is to beam upon those of his stalwarts who are spreading the third term gospel. It is more than conceivable that Mr. Coolidge hasn't told anyone in all this world that he would accept another term, but there is no question that the regular Republican leaders feel that they have his enthusiastic approval.

Of course, on the other hand Mr. Coolidge knows that if he were to throw cold water on all this propaganda there would be a mad scramble away from him to hop on other hand-wagons, so the professional speculator on politics may—if he cares to—imagine the possibility that Mr. Coolidge doesn't want four more years and is just stringing the boys along in which case the amount of hot air and white paper now going to pure waste is heart-rendingly appalling.

Twenty baby ducks were the novel package delivered to the Appleton postoffice Monday morning. The birds were in good condition although they had been shipped from Ohio when only one day old. Baby chicks are regular customers at the office but ducks are decidedly unusual, the clerks reported.

Wednesday morning 850 baby chicks were addressed to people living on rural routes near Appleton. This was not an unusually high number, it was stated.

Calls Tanlac "King of Medicines"

Ashland man wins six-year fight for health. Now well and strong as ever, he praises Tanlac.

Edward Burton is a millwright living at 1066 Vaughan Avenue, Ashland, Wis. He tells of his interesting experience.

"For a whole year," said Mr. Burton, "my stomach had gone back on me. It was a most distressing experience. Nothing seemed to agree with me. I lost all desire for food. A sound night's sleep was out of the question, so I rose each morning tired and peevish. Then constipation developed and made life a continuous misery. I lost weight and could hardly drag myself around a good deal of the time. After a year of that I was all in. I went from bad to worse, for nothing seemed to help me."

"I was very discouraged by then but tried Tanlac, which had helped several friends of my wife. That certainly did help. I soon began to get refreshing sleep again, to eat with old-time zest. The distressing stomach and liver troubles disappeared. Briefly Tanlac put me on my feet, with all my old-time vigor and enjoyment of life. After five bottles I was as well as ever in my life. That was a year ago. I'm still in fine shape, as you see. I think Tanlac is the king of all medicines, and recommend it at every opportunity."

Tanlac is nature's own tonic and body builder, made from roots, herbs and barks by the famous Tanlac formula. Try a bottle—it may do for you what it did for Mr. Burton. Your druggist has it. Over 52 million bottles sold.

U. W. CAREFUL OF STUDENTS' HEALTH

Claims One of Finest Health Services of Any School in Country

Madison—(AP)—The University of Wisconsin boasts its care of the health of its students.

In addition to an intercollegiate and intra-mural sport program intended to balance mental with physical training, the school claims to have one of the finest student health services of any school in the United States.

Seventy-six of every hundred students at the university received medical treatment or advice from the university clinic or infirmary during the 1925-26 term, Dr. W. Mowry, physician-in-chief of the students' health service declared today. Of the 8,923 students enrolled during the year, 6,691 used the clinic service.

These statistics "do not indicate that Wisconsin students are less healthy than students in other universities," he said, "but show that the University has, perhaps, the finest students' health service in the United States."

Out of the $15.50 "incidentals" fee paid by each student for each semester $3.90 is apportioned for medical service. Thus the student is automatically entitled to "free" personal medical service.

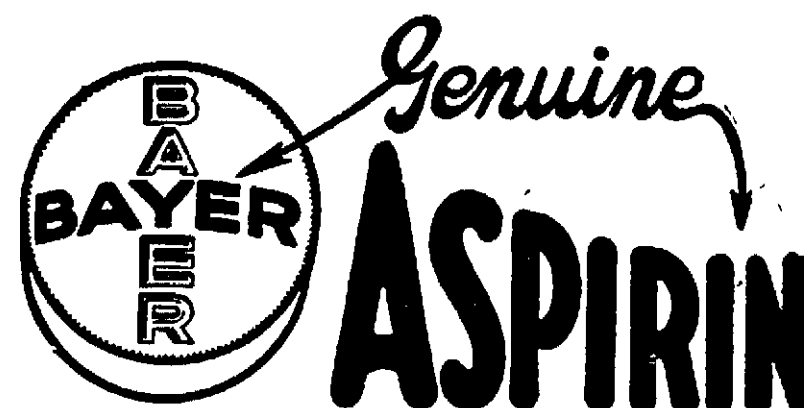

The student who becomes ill may summon one of the university's physicians at any time; he may also remain in the university infirmary and receive regular hospital attention, and receives board and room, the advantage of any necessary laboratory or X-ray work, and the services of the infirmary staff, nurses and technicians.

During 1925-26, a total of 37,666 house and office visits was received by the student health department; 18,010 office visits were for men and 16,712 for women students, while 1,102 were for university employees; clinic physicians made 589 house visits to men, 1,187 to women students, and 26 to university employees. These figures include the summer session.

From Sept. 1, 1925 to Sept. 1, 1926, there were 1,917 student patients were admitted to the infirmary for treatment of more serious illness and injuries. These patients were cared for during a total of 12,242 hospital days.

Besides patients, 4,249 men students sought advice of the clinic staff; 3,405 women students did the same.

Clinic physicians issued excuses for absence from classes to 3,618 men and to 3,515 women for conditions treated, and 832 other excuses to men and 1,432 to women for reported illness, such as headaches, indigestion, colds, etc.

SUNDAY GAMES

KIMBERLY AT APPLETON.
Kaukauna at Green Bay.
Oshkosh at Menasha.
Neenah, bye.

Members of the Appleton baseball team of the Fox River Valley League, preparing for the opening battle here Saturday afternoon, got in their first practice of the week Thursday at Brandt park. The rains of the early part of the week spoiled much-needed workouts as the Baetzmen were idle last Sunday instead of really testing their strength against the veteran Oshkosh aggregation, 1925 champions, a better test than the new Kaukauna club could give.

An ancient foe of the Baetzmen, whom some of the hardest battles of the Baetzmen for 1925 were staged, will open the local season, when the Appleton boys take the field in new uniforms donated by local merchants. The teams split about even last year but every game was a hard-fought battle and few fans who accompanied the team to the village will forget the memorable seven-inning tie, fought for five frames through a driving rain. The last innings were played later. Kimberly winning by a run in the tenth.

Vanderloop of Little Chute, who bothered Appleton plenty last year, will top the mound Sunday with his regular battery-mate, Hester, nabbing off his line-up. The remainder of the Kimberly line-up will be stronger than last year with a former Minnesota State player at one position and Les Smith of Combined Locks in the outfield. Smith was one of the best fielders and batters of the Oshkosh team of the Mississippi Valley League last year when that squad won the championship. His hard hitting won him plenty of fame and had he elected to return this year instead of taking a fine job at home, he would have been given a spring trial with the Detroit Tigers.

Sternagle, local veteran, who has beaten out of a chance to hurl against Oshkosh last week by rain, will top the mound with Brockhouse on the receiving end of his slams. The local line-up may be strengthened by the addition of Joe Shields, high school coach, who intended to report for practice for the first time this week. Shields was leadoff man and second sacker for LaCrosse and the Madison Blues in the Midwest and State leagues, playing against teams like the Beloit Fairies, Racine, Sheboygan and Chicago nines. He was a leading hitter and holder of the loop and a speed anchor on the base.

Should Shields report Sunday an infield shift will greatly strengthen the team. Goshka could return to his old job at third base, greatly strengthening that position. So far this season East, veteran catcher, has been performing creditably there with Goshka on second. For pitching reserves Baetz has Ruffie, the Kimberly jun., who held Kaukauna with ease last week, and Dat Crowe, old Appleton moundsman, who has returned to the squad.

In the outfield will be the veteran Erich, Bowers, Laesch and Mayeski with the possibility that Hillman and Bent may be eligible to play. Laesch is a hard-hitting newcomer from New London, who can play both infield and outfield.

A rally in the last half of the final inning gave the Faculty softball team a close 6-7 victory over the Juniors in the Appleton high school interclass league, Wednesday afternoon at the school grounds. The Faculty lost to the Sophs last week while the Sophs whipped the Juniors and the Juniors

APPLETON NETMEN TO ENTER TOURNAMENT

Manitowoc Tennis Club Sponsors First Meet of Newly-formed Association

Several Appleton tennis players are planning to take part in the first tournament sanctioned by the newly-formed Wisconsin Tennis association, which will be held at Manitowoc on May 25, 26 and 27. The local men are affiliated with the state organization. The meet is called the Lake Shore Tennis Championships.

The tournament is open to members of all clubs in the Wisconsin Tennis association and entries have already been received from Oshkosh, Kohler, Watertown, Two Rivers, and Manitowoc. A large entry from the Fox River valley is also assured.

The tournament includes men's singles and doubles events for which prizes will be presented to both the winners and runners-up. In addition, the E. O. Vits Trophy, a handsome silver cup will be placed in competition to become the property of the first player winning the singles event three times.

The Lake Shore Championships are being held under the auspices of the Aluminum Goods Tennis Club of Manitowoc which has at its disposal nine clay courts with six more under construction which are expected to be completed in time for the matches. Entries close May 21. The entry fee is $1 a man for an event. Entries should be sent to the A. G. Tennis Club, Post Office Box No. 2, Manitowoc.

The teachers broke the last-place tie. A win for the Juniors would have given that crew third and left the teachers alone on the bottom.
Shields batted for the winners with Gerhardt behind the pan and Strutz and Pledter formed the junior battery. Thursday afternoon the leading seniors and the sophomores, both unbeaten before, will clash for top honors in the league.

Even Dry Agents Prepare To Attend 'Tucky Derby

Louisville, Ky. —(AP) — It isn't been called, to report here Thursday now, said the "hardest" as he looked at the calendar and saw "Tucky Derby day" was only a few days away. But the Kentucky who has never seen his Derby with the remainder of the country wasn't the only one who had been watching the calendar.

Special trains and tourist agencies have begun to arrive, over capacity roads.
Kentucky, once famous for its beautiful women, fast horses and whisky, is going to have a superb abundance of the first two and a serious shortage of the last, if so agents have their way.

W. O. May, federal prohibition administrator for Kentucky and Tennessee, announced that every road and every bridge near Louisville is to be guarded in an attempt to keep out of the state the thousands of tourists expected here from Kentucky, Tennessee and Florida for the Derby at Louisville. Thousands of agents from throughout the district have

SPRINT STARS IN MADISON MEET

Big 10 Sprinters

Madison—Hester, Michigan's sterling little sprinter, will play the role of the rabbit in what is likely to prove a thrilling race and hurdle race with the best dash men from the nine other conference schools. They will cut loose at the outdoor meets here May 27 and 28 in an attempt to wrest from the Wolverine the Big Ten title in the 100-yard dash.

Coches Steven Farrell's sprinters cornered the event a year ago by winning three of the five places. Hester and Leschinsky crossing the line together for first. The former rules the race, while the latter is his teammate's favorite to repeat, as his teammate has been lost to the Maize and Blue due to scholastic difficulties.

Running the distance in 19 flat in an every day occurrence with Hester. Although he was forced into second place at the indoor conference meet this winter, he has to his credit victories in the century at the recent Penn Relays and the 1926 Ohio games.

Ohio's star sprinter, Kriss, had the distinction of defeating Hester indoors this winter, when he won the 50 yard dash in .95.5 seconds. The pair met for the first time outdoors at Penn, where Kriss crossed the line on the heels of his rival from Michigan. The Buckeyes have another fast man in Irwin, who may be entered in the 100, 200, 400, 800, 1600, 3200, 6400, 12800, 25600, 51200, 102400, 204800, 409600, 819200, 1638400, 3276800, 6553600, 13107200, # DAUGHTERS OF MIDAS

By Anne Austin

THIS HAS HAPPENED

T. Q. CURTIS, millionaire owner of the big Curtis Store, conducts two amazing contests for the secret purpose of determining which of the girls in his employ have really worth-while ambitions. He gives a dinner for the winners at his home. Among them are BILLY WELLS, NYDA LOMAX, and WINNIE SHELTON. Billy sits next to DAL ROMAN, a fascinating, Oriental-looking man who strangely enslaves her with his personality. She also meets and dances with RALPH TRUMAN, whose father owns an automobile factory.

The morning following the dinner, T. Q. CURTIS summons Billy, Nyda and Winnie Shelton and offers to take them into his home, to make them his wards for a year, in order that they may have an opportunity to achieve their ambitions. Billy's sincere passion is to become a concert violinist and Mr. Curtis presents her with a rare violin and assures her if she accepts his offer she may study with the best teacher in town. The other two girls lie about their ambitions in order to gain the millionaire's favor. Nyda is to be given a course in a school for kindergarten teachers and Winnie Shelton is to study to become a private secretary.

Billy is radiant over the offer. A tanager is cast on her enthusiasm by CLAY CURTIS, son of the store owner. Clay has disinherited himself and is living with the Wells family in a poor section of town, working in the Truman factory in the daytime and writing music at night. He is in love with Billy and considers her a musical genius. Clay is gravely dubious about the outcome of his father's plan. "What a merry little hell he's picked for himself—and you," Clay tells Billy.

CHAPTER XXV

The next afternoon at five o'clock Billy Wells, rather loath to take in every detail of her new home and its surroundings. There it was—the Curtis home, known all over Colfax simply as "The Mansion." Incredible that she, Billy Wells, a department store clerk yesterday, was to live in that enormous pile of cream-colored brick and gray-white stone as a foster daughter of its millionaire owner. Her home for a year!

Again, as the taxicab turned into the long winding driveway, a thrill of fear quivered along her nerves. She had signed away a year of her life. For value received—what was the fantastic language of that legal agreement?

"Here you are, miss." The taxi driver swung her suitcases to the wide white marble steps leading to the front porch.

Her first thrill out of new wealth came when she tipped the driver heavily without a quail. He sprang to press the bell for her, then, with a more deferential farewell, was off.

"Come in, miss. Mrs. Meadows is in the drawing room." The parlor maid admitted her unsmilingly. She, Nyda, evidently did not relish the idea of four females invading the house and giving orders.

As Billy hesitated on the threshold of the drawing room, Mrs. Meadows rose from a tea table and hastened to meet her with extended hand and a determinedly gay smile.

"Ah, my dear little girl, I am so glad to see you again! I was wondering which of the lovely girls you were. You had on the delightful little autumn leaf dress, didn't you? I was quite drawn to you, and am so glad we ate to know each other better. Mrs. Meadows' voice was the kind that is always described as 'delightfully modulated.'

"I'm glad to be here, of course," Billy said with disconcerting brevity. "Have the other two girls come?"

"Indeed they have! Miss Lomax—I suppose I really should say Nyda—arrived in time for lunch. I had not yet arrived, though fortunately Mr. Curtis was here to welcome her. And little Winnie—what a lovely, sweet child she is—came about three o'clock. They've been having great fun choosing their rooms."

"I must have known they wouldn't lose any time," Billy thought grimly. Around she said, with a flash of her impudent grin. "If you don't mind, I'll go up and see what they've picked out for me. Don't bother about me, please, Mrs. Meadows. The maid will show me the way. You were just having your tea, weren't you?"

"It's a habit I became a slave to on the continent," Nyda and Winnie declined, but won't you join me?" Billy escaped both the tea and Mrs. Meadows' excessive cordiality. The parlor maid led the way, carrying the suitcases, up the broad, gracious winding staircase to the third floor.

A door was thrown open down the hall, and Nyda Lomax, almond-shaped black eyes flashed upon her. The girl's tall, beautiful body was wrapped in a cheap kimono of flame-colored, sleazy silk trimmed in wide bands of black satin.

"Hello, Billy! Winnie, here's our little sister Billy. Come on in and see my room." Billy's eyes crossed the hall from Mrs. Lomax. Let Clara bring your bags in here until you pick out a room."

When the maid, Clara, had set the suitcases just inside the door, with a thump that told of her dislike of being ordered about by show girls, Nyda closed the door with a bang and put an arm about Billy's shoulder.

"How do you like it? Not so bad, is it?" She waved a languid hand to indicate the room.

Winnie Shelton, in a pale blue negligee, was stretched upon a chaise longue, busy with a buffer and nail file.

"We thought you were never coming, and we simply couldn't wait to choose our rooms." She looked up at Billy with a comradely smile on her little heart-shaped, fair face.

"Of course, Nyda beat us both to it, and took the swellest room of the lot. Old T. Q.'s rooms are on the second floor, and he told us we could have our pick of any of the rooms on the whole third floor."

Nyda's room was vast and high-ceilinged, with a great bay window, looking down upon a fountain set in a huge circular flower bed that would be riotous with beauty in another two months. The room was impressive rather than beautiful, in rich, wine-red brocade, mellowed with age, a massive four-poster bed, dresser, chest of drawers and desk of black walnut.

"Of course the room will have to be refurbished and redecored," Nyda drew herself upon the vast bed and looked about her with discontented eyes. "But it really has possibilities. I'll get old T. Q.—I wonder what in the world he will want us to call him?—to do it over for me to suit my personality. Chinese, I think, with yellow paper and black carpets and purple hangings with dragons embroidered on them in gold."

"I think," Billy laughed, "that you are taking a lot for granted. It's a wonderful room as it is, a thousand times better than any of us ever had before."

"Oh, listen to Pollyanna!" Winnie giggled. "Wait till you see my room and hear what I've decided to have. T. Q. do to it. Nyda said he told her at lunch—and believe me, she didn't waste any time getting on his good side—said he told her he'd fix up our rooms just like we wanted them. Said he knew the house was old-fashioned and that the rooms would not appeal to pretty young girls. Oh, boy! Ain't we got fun?" She flung her small, bare white arms around her knees and hugged them against her breast ecstatically.

"There's the bath, through that door there," Nyda pointed out. "Big as our living room at home. A dozen towels on the racks if there's one, and a quart jar of mignonette bath salts. I stayed in the tub for an hour this afternoon."

Billy dropped down beside Nyda on the bed, and took one of the long, slim hands in her own.

"Girls, we've got to live together for a whole year. I've been wishing all day that we'd been better friends, closer to each other at the store. I know I've been pretty sharp-tongued but I'm going to try to be a good sport." Her voice broke and she wondered, disquietedly, if she were going to degenerate into a weeping female.

"You're all right, kiddie," Nyda said in a warm, friendly voice, and Billy desisted herself for wincing at that particular word of endearment. "I guess most of us girls were jealous of you because you had more brains than we did. And sometimes you upstaged us—oh, maybe you didn't mean it, but that's what it looked like to us. You playing the violin so swell and all—you know! But sure we'll be pals now. We'll stick together, won't we, Winnie?"

"I never said a cross word to you in my life, did I, Billy?" Winnie asked plaintively. "Not even when you camped Stanley Powers away from me. Of course we'll be good friends. I suppose we've got to be," she added wistfully.

"And I feel that we ought to think pretty seriously of just how we can make Mr. Curtis glad that he's doing all this for us," Billy went on doggedly, though her face was hot with embarrassment. "You know—not be grumpy or ungrateful, and study hard, so as to make the most of our opportunities."

"Don't make me laugh!" Nyda shrugged her lovely shoulders. "Think of me copped up all morning with a lot of cry-bables that I've got to learn to amuse! I could stay Eddie Banning for having picked out that life ambition for me. You two have got it soft—" lot of cry-bables that I've got to learn to amuse! I could stay Eddie Banning for having picked out that life ambition for me. You two have got it soft—"

"Soft!" Winnie, echoed scornfully. "All you've got to do is to learn to cut out paper dolls and teach the kids to sing. 'Good morning, dear teacher, good morning to you!' while I've got to learn shorthand and break my finger nails on a typewriter!"

Billy's eyes flew to her violin case, and a great thankfulness flooded her face with light.

"It's Billy that has it soft," Nyda decided. "And gee, I'm glad you have, kiddie. I just love to hear you play the fiddle. What do you say we find a room for you? And are you going to dress up for dinner? In novels they always wear evening dress. I'm got to shop all day tomorrow—at the City Store." Her black eyes glitter with unrelenting joy at the prospect. (To Be Continued)

CITY TO CONDUCT EARLY PROGRAM ON MEMORIAL DAY

Exercises Will Be Held in Morning Instead of Afternoon This Year

Appleton this year will observe Memorial day in the morning instead of in the afternoon. Representatives of local military organizations decided Tuesday evening. The program will open at 8:30 Monday morning when the organizations will form the line of march. At 9 o'clock services will be held at Lawrence Memorial chapel, followed by the march to the Riverside cemetery where the program will be completed.

Lothar Grief will be marshal of the day and Major A. C. Rule will act as president. Lieut. P. C. Kiecher will be chaplain. A program committee was appointed Tuesday evening, consisting of William H. Zuehlke, chairman, Mrs. E. E. Dunn and Harvey Prieb. They will select the speaker within a week. An attempt will be made this year to secure a wider interest in Memorial day. In the past only those connected with military organizations were active. The schools are being asked to cooperate this year. Frank B. Younger, principal of McKinley junior high school, in charge of this part of the observance, plans to get the junior and senior high school students to take part.

James D. Hantchett, commander of George D. Eggleston post of the Grand Army of the Republic, was chairman of Tuesday evening's meeting, and George Dano, post commander of Oney Johnston, post of the American Legion, was secretary. Beside the program, other committees appointed were:

Evergreen—Representatives of the G. A. R., legion, and Spanish-American War veterans; seating and ushers at the chapel—Co. D; decorations—Women's Relief corps, legion auxiliary, and the Spanish-American war auxiliary; decoration of the Soldiers Square monument and the program at the river bank in the cemetery—J. T. Reeve circle; decoration of Soldier Square—cannon—Spanish-American war auxiliary; transportation—J. L. Johns, chairman, Fred F. Wettengel, James Balliet and Arthur Jones.

Marshall Lothar Grief also will be in charge of the parade for the observance of Memorial Sunday, the preceding day, at First Methodist church. Organizations represented at Tuesday evening's meeting were the legion post and its auxiliary, the Spanish-American war veterans and auxiliary and the G. A. R. and its two auxiliaries.

POSTPONE MEETING OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

The regular meeting of the board of education scheduled for Friday night at the superintendent of schools office has been postponed to Friday evening, May 20, because several members of the board will be out of town on the scheduled date. Important business is to be discussed at the meeting.

ADVISE MOTORISTS TO HEED RURAL STOP SIGNS

"Stop" signs along roads in the country are put there for a purpose other than ornamentation. It is pointed out at the office of the county highway commission. They mean just what they say, nothing more, but it is believed that their meaning is clear enough.

The highway commission advises motorists to do as the signs say when they reach them. As one county motorcycle officer recently put it, "stop means stop, not increased speed." The signs have been located at dangerous intersections for the protection of automobile drivers. Failure to heed the directions may result in injury or death to the responsible one and his companions, and endanger the safety of others, one member of the highway committee observed.

Several persons have been arrested recently for not halting for "stop" signs, and with the issuance of this warning, all violators observed by county motorcycle officers will be haled into court.

But rather than take the chance, play safe and come to a complete stop, the commission advises.

WORK IS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY ON NEW LOCK

Work is progressing rapidly on the new lock under construction on the canal between the Fox and Wisconsin rivers at Portage, according to A. F. Everett, local United States engineer. The canal has been closed since last fall and probably will not be opened until next year.

The COMMANDER

A STUDEBAKER BIG SIX

Only by owning a Commander can you avoid taking Commander dust on hills and highways

FROM one Coast to the other, The Commander is smashing records of speed, records of hill climbing, records of sales!

5000 miles in less than 5000 minutes

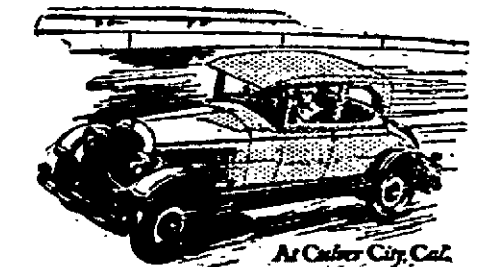

In a recent sensational test at Culver City, California, under the auspices of the American Automobile Association, Harry Hart and three other noted pilots drove The Commander—a strictly stock, fully-equipped enclosed car—5000 miles in 4909 minutes, total elapsed time, establishing ten new world records.

This is better than mile-a-minute speed for 81 consecutive hours and 49 minutes—the fastest speed for the farthest distance ever attained by any stock car!

It is equivalent in stress and strain to 25,000 miles of ordinary driving. Yet in establishing this and nine intervening world records, the only mechanical repairs necessary on The Commander were three grease cups (damaged in hasty greasing), and one spark plug.

The Commander Out-climbs All Other Cars

In another public contest, five automobile dealers in Batavia, N. Y., challenged Studebaker's repeated statement that The Commander will out-perform any car selling within a thousand dollars of its price.

The scene of the contest was a long hill near Batavia with an average grade of 10%. The 3 tests were:

1. To climb the hill in the slowest possible time—without slipping the clutch.
2. To climb the hill from a standing start, in the fastest possible time.
3. To climb the hill from a flying start, in the fastest possible time.

The Commander won all three events easily! In the slow-time event, one of the most widely advertised sixes in America was unable to make the grade without shifting gears.

In addition to this proof of Big Six supremacy, The Commander carried a load of ten men, weighing 1633 pounds, up the hill in high gear. Then to cap the climax, The Commander carried 17 men, weighing 2794 pounds, to the top in high, the speedometer reading 35 miles at the start and 22 miles at the finish.

Climbs 10-Story Building

In Washington, D. C., the Capitol Garage dedicated its new $1,000,000

Harry Hart: wired us after setting 10 world records in The Commander:

"Based on my experience driving my personal Studebaker Commander and in making the recent record run at Culver City Speedway with a Studebaker Commander strictly stock model, it is my opinion that it will maintain any given speed, up to sixty-five miles per hour, longer, more smoothly, and at less expense per hour traveled, for gasoline, oil and repairs, than any other stock automobile now being built in the United States."

Prices of The Studebaker Commander:

Commander Sedan, $1585; Commander Victoria, $1575; (broadcloth upholstery, $1645); Commander Coupe, $1545; (with rumble seat, $1645). All prices f. o. b. factory, including front and rear bumpers, snubbers all around, and four-wheel brakes. More than $100 worth of extra equipment included at no extra cost. Other Studebaker models from $1165 to $2245; Eighteen Six models, $945 and $995.

building by inviting all the automobile dealers to engage in an indoor hill-climbing contest—a climb of twenty ramps, ten stories in height.

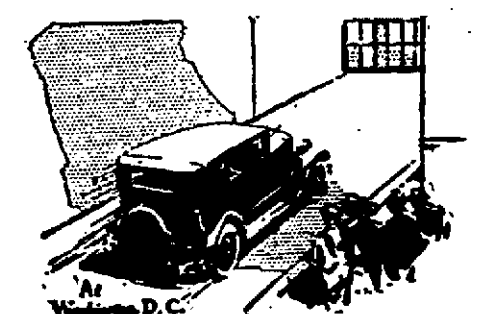

The Commander wound its way easily up the steep ramps in high gear—and 5000 people cheered its victory over the field. After the contest, 102 drivers of different cars tried to equal The Commander's time-record—but every one failed!

What These Records Mean to You

You probably will never need mile-a-minute speed for 5000 miles—you may never want to enter a hill-climbing contest. But these remarkable records are proof of what we have demonstrated time and again on Studebaker's 800-acre Proving Ground—that The Commander in every phase of every-day driving will out-perform and out-live any other car, six or eight, selling for less than $2500.

Drive The Commander Yourself

The best evidence for you of the thrilling performance of The Commander is what the car will do in your own hands. Get behind the wheel of a Commander as our guest, without strings or obligation. Learn for yourself why the Studebaker Big Six now far out-sells the combined totals of all other cars in the world of equal or greater rated horsepower.

The Commander's ease of handling, comfort and custom beauty, are a revelation in motor car luxury at a One-Price price. Phone us now and take command of The Commander today!

The mayor, city treasurer and city clerk with race Chief George T. McGinnis are the other members of the board.

will be spent during 1927 for new railroad equipment, new construction and improvement of the properties of railroads of the United States.

Clean heat

No black kettles to scour!

How much pleasanter cooking is, when there are no black pots and pans to scour afterward! Every woman who cooks with a Perfection Oil Stove is spared that horrid nuisance.

There is never a speck of soot. For in the long chimneys, every drop of oil is completely burned before the heat reaches the cooking.

Perfection flames stay at the height you set them, so you need never fear they will "creep up" and make the kitchen sooty.

Soot, as you know, is half-burned kerosene—just wasted heat. With Perfections you have real fuel economy, as all the oil is changed into cooking heat. They burn only kerosene, the safe household fuel.

Miss Allen says—

"Utensil bottoms are free from soot when cooking is done on the Perfection Stove."

Miss Lucy G. Allen
Principal, Boston
School of Cookery.

With Perfection you will have wonderful cooking results, and your utensils will stay shiny as new. See the newest Perfections at any dealer's—1 to 5 burner sizes. Priced from $7.25 to $130.

RHINELANDER MEN BUY ORECK STORE

Widow of Slain Merchant Sells Wearing Apparel Business

Three Rhinelander business men purchased the Oreck Apparel shop and took possession of the store this week. A company will be formed but the name has not been decided. H. R. Goldstone of the Goldstone Department store, B. Isaacson, owner of a specialty shop, and H. M. Goldberg, manager of the Goldstone store, will compose the company. Mr. Goldberg will act as manager of the Appleton store which probably will be called the Fashion shop.

The policy of the store will be the same as under the ownership and management of Max Oreck, who died several weeks ago. Mr. Goldberg managed a ready-to-wear shop at Springfield, O., before moving to Rhinelander. All members of the company have been connected with the ready-to-wear business for a number of years.

Mrs. Oreck plans to move to Minneapolis.

STEALS AUTO BUT LEAVES BICYCLE

Here Is Thief With Sense of Humor, Owner of Car Reports to Police

A thief with a sense of humor stole a Ford coupe owned by Lindon Carey, 518 E. Minor-st from in front of his home Wednesday night, and left a bicycle in place of the car. It was reported to police Thursday morning. The initials A. R. R. are on the bicycle. The coupe is a 1922 model and carried license number 124619B. The motor number is 6306153.

A Whippet Landau, stolen about 9 o'clock Wednesday night from the O. R. Kleinst Co., 21 E. College-ave., was recovered less than an hour later at Neenah. Neenah police received a description of the machine a few minutes after the theft was discovered, and when Officer Emil Zimdars was riding home about 9:15 Wednesday evening, the stolen car passed him at a high rate of speed.

The police officer was with Charles Raean, and the two gave chase and a short time later they found the car abandoned on Winneconne-ave near the Soo Line tracks. The thieves probably were being followed, police believe.

A Hudson coach, stolen about 10:30 Wednesday night at Neenah, was discovered here early Thursday morning at the corner of W. Lawrence and S. Walnut-sts by Officer Earl Thomas. The car was turned over to Neenah authorities Thursday morning.

Theft of a Chevrolet touring car at Sheboygan has been reported to local police. The car is a 1924 model and its license number is B26654.

WELFARE SPECIAL STARTS SCHEDULE IN KEWAUNEE-CO

Travelling Health Center Will Begin Summer Schedule in Week

Madison—(AP)—Wisconsin's travelling health center on the Child Welfare Special—now beginning its sixth year's work, starts in Kewaunee-co. next week on the first lap of a summer-long schedule.

The car will be in Kewaunee-co four days for demonstrations of health work for children.

Built in the winter of 1921-22 the special car was intended and operated for the benefit of demonstrations of the Shepard-Towne law. Its original program was for five years. This program was completed last November, when all except one Wisconsin county had been visited—many of them a second time.

The Kewaunee-co tour will be followed by visits to Door, Shawano, Oconto and other counties.

The first week's schedule follows: Luxemburg, May 17; Casco, 18; Altona, 19.

The car will be two weeks in Door-co, as follows: Forestville, May 23; Sturgeon Bay, 24; Bailey's Harbor, 25; Ellison Bay, 26; Washington Island, 27; Sister Bay, 28; Fish Creek, June 1-2; Brussels, 3.

Shawano-co. will be visited from June 6 to 21, and Oconto county from June 22 to 24 inclusive.

The physician on the special will be Dr. Sylvia G. Stuessy, Madison, and the nurse will be Miss Ellen Raether, Humboldt. Walter A. Drews, Milwaukee, will be chauffeur and mechanic. This staff has operated the special for several seasons.

In visits to 70 counties in the five year period, the staff examined 23,573 children, giving this form of health service to 516 rural communities. Of the infant and preschool group (22,841), 5,242 were pronounced normal according to the standards prescribed, and 17,599 had preventable or remedial defects. The children were given complete physical examinations and necessary procedure was advised.

Kills Roaches, Bed-Bugs, Ants,
This Sure Way

Here is the simple and quick way to kill bed-bugs, roaches and ants. Just pour some of the new chemical discovery—P.D.Q.—over your carpeting, furniture, walls, etc. The moment it touches the insects—they die. It does no damage to your carpeting, furniture, walls, etc. or even clothing. P.D.Q. is used and recommended by leading hotels, hospitals and railroads as the quickest and safest way of getting rid of these pests. Instantly it smothers and kills the living creatures; coats their eggs and stops them from hatching and multiplying. A small package of this golden chemical will make a quart of mixture—so easily it will kill a million bed-bugs. P.D.Q. can also be had in double-strength liquid form—ready for use. Free patent report enables you to reach hard-to-get-at places with ease. Get P.D.Q. at your druggist's today. Your money back, if the bugs are not gone tomorrow.

65 LOCKAGES ARE REPORTED AT LOCKS

Tonnage for April Totals
7,873, According to Navigation Office Report

A total of 65 lockages were reported at the Appleton locks for April, according to the monthly report prepared at the local United States navigation office. This is an increase of about 600 tons over last year when the same number of lockages were reported with but 7,286 tons of cargo. The largest number of lockages for the month, 124, was reported at De Pere with 18,479 tons of cargo. In the same month in 1926 there were only 101 lockages with 15,746 tons of cargo. At Kaukauna there were 121 lockages with 17,793 tons of cargo. In 1926 there were only 191 lockages with 13,358 tons of cargo. At Little Chute there were 118 lockages and 13,700 tons of cargo while at Kimberly a total of 99 lockages were checked with 15,671 tons of cargo. Only 55 lockages with 1,422 tons of cargo were reported at Menasha.

BRING PROPERTY DEEDS TO BUILDING INSPECTOR

Applicants have been advised by John N. Welland, building inspector to bring the deed of their property or a description of their property when applying for a building permit. Mr. Welland said much time and trouble is saved if the applicants will do this. The department is able to give better service if the desired information is supplied.

The building inspector cannot issue a permit for any purpose unless he has a sketch showing the proposed construction.
